The list is ranked by 2010 revenues. To be included on the list, companies had to be engaged in any form of IT consulting services and have facilities in the San Fernando, Conejo, Simi or Santa Clarita valleys. Information was provided by the companies themselves as well as the San Fernando Valley Business Journal Research Department. Some companies were left off the list due to incomplete survey submissions, or their facilities have since moved out of our coverage area. In the event of a tie, the companies are ranked by total number of Valley employees.
