Dear Readers,

Orange County is home to a large number of the most community-minded businesses in the nation. So, it’s no big surprise that each year we see more and more local businesses underwriting the nonprofits participating in the Orange County Business Journal’s annual Giving Guide. This year, 46% of the nonprofits in this guide received underwriting support. The Giving Guide is an important resource that provides all of the information you’ll need to make your giving and volunteering decisions. It features 55 nonprofit spreads with detailed information on each organization’s mission statement, service area, goals, board members, fundraising events and giving/volunteering opportunities. In addition, you’ll find lists ranking the largest nonprofits, corporate foundations and private foundations in Orange County, along with articles that offer insight for your giving strategy.

Thank you to our amazing team: Julie Vo, for editing it’s content; and Richard Loyd, Martin Nielchian, Brette Miller and Erin Hiebert, for graphic design. Thank you to our publication sponsors – Association of Fundraising Professionals (AFP), SingerLewak, Wells Fargo, The Word & Brown Companies and Union Bank, as well as all of the underwriters of individual nonprofits featured in the Giving Guide.

I am very proud to be part of such a giving and supportive community. I hope the Giving Guide will inspire you to underwrite your favorite charity next year, so that they can reach potential donors and sponsors, and gain further support from our community.

GIVING BACK

At The Word & Brown Companies, giving back to the community is more than an idea, it’s a philosophy that is instilled and fostered in all employees. As two of this year’s Faces of Philanthropy, John Word & Rusty Brown lead by example, and support the participation of their employees in a wide variety and number of charitable organizations. They ensure the Spirit of Giving is embedded in everything we do – from simplifying access to better health insurance choices for our customers to raising money, generating awareness, and volunteering for organizations that give back to those who need it most.

On behalf of The Word & Brown Companies, thank you to all of the non-profits highlighted in this year’s Giving Guide.

Increase Employee Engagement with Social Impact

by Daniel McQuaid, President & CEO, OneOC

Orange County has a rich history of many of its first large corporations engaging their employees in workplace giving and volunteering, and making a significant social impact in our communities. Companies like Fluor, Disneyland Resort and Pacific Life have done so for decades, continuing the tradition and leading practices established by their strong community-minded founders and executives. Today, most of Orange County’s large corporations—with more than 1,000 employees—have company-giving and volunteering programs. And mid-size to small companies are feeling the increased expectation, especially by millennials, to develop these programs if they have not already done so.

Top Trends Identified
Company philanthropy programs have been rapidly evolving from an isolated “good to do” activity to a central component of employee engagement and corporate social responsibility plans. Several leading Orange county companies, such as First American Title, Antis Roofing and Edwards Lifesciences (quoted in the sidebar below) illustrate the top six trends in corporate philanthropy identified in American Charities’ recent report, “Snapshot 2015: The New Corporate DNA – Where Employee Engagement and Social Impact Converge.” The report took the national pulse of corporate philanthropy and identified six top trends including the emergence of volunteerism as a key component of corporate philanthropy, millennials’ high expectations that their work experience will include community engagement, and the growing presence of small and mid-size companies in this effort.

Important to Company Leaders
The report also asked companies what aspects of employee engagement are most important to their company’s leadership. Seven elements were listed: 1) Providing year-round giving; 2) Support for employees to serve on nonprofit boards; 3) Ability to measure ROI; 4) Employees can choose the causes/charities they give to; 5) Employees connect with company signature programs; 6) Opportunities for employees to connect with their peers around causes; and 7) External recognition/promotion of engaged employees to the media and/or public.

Recommendations for Greater Impact
Last year, OneOC launched the Center for Business and Community Partnerships to inspire, equip and mobilize companies to build and grow their employee-giving and volunteering programs. OneOC recommends the Snapshot 2015 report’s five things companies can do to maximize the impact on their business, employees and communities:

1. Ensure that the company leadership is authentic and senior officers are actively engaged and involved.
2. Align employee engagement strategies and nonprofit partnerships with business values and mission.
3. Engage in a dialogue with key nonprofit partners to ensure engagement is strategic and mutually beneficial.
4. Involve and empower employees to support corporate signature programs AND the causes they care about.
5. Identify opportunities to ensure you use your programs to recruit and retain the best talent by connecting employee engagement to professional development and recruitment strategies.

“Millennials are an important part of our vibrant workforce. We employ more than 2,000 millennials, and that number is growing rapidly. Our employee engagement surveys tell us they value social responsibility, and we love that because it aligns well with the ‘people first’ culture at First American.”
- Mark Rutherford, Senior Vice President of Human Resources, First American

“Like many small companies, Antis Roofing competes for top talent. We have strategically aligned our giving and volunteering programs with our business strategies and the values and interests of our employees and company. We’ve learned to listen to and involve our 85 team members. The impact is engaged employees, an empowered culture and contributions to more than 30 nonprofit partners.”
- Charles Antis, President and Founder, Antis Roofing

“We take our philanthropy personally and have seen how employee involvement results in extraordinary impact on people’s lives – both for those giving and receiving. We are proud that 74% of our 10,000 employees around the world are involved in charitable activities and aspire to reach 100% through our leaders inspiring an authentic connection and passion for giving back.”
- Mike Mussallem, Chairman and CEO, Edwards Lifesciences
What Is CSR?

By common definition, Corporate Social Responsibility or CSR, characterizes a company’s initiatives, actions and outcomes that benefit society at large. Some of the more common forms of CSR are categorized under headings, such as sustainability (recycling programs, reducing carbon footprint and sourcing goods from renewable sources.) Other CSR headings include community outreach and philanthropy, as well as recruiting and retention programs.

When a company decides to adopt CSR as part of their culture, they are beginning a journey that will take them through all facets of their organization.

CSR in Day-to-Day Operations

Every business has room for improvement when it comes to sustainability. For enterprises that are heavily reliant on raw materials or components, adopting purchasing guidelines that encourage or mandate buying from suppliers who source from renewable or responsible sources and pay fair wages, is a good first step in adding CSR to corporate culture. Finding ways to use less and recycle more is another simple step. Celebrate these accomplishments with your employees. It will set the tone for bigger things to come.

CSR in Your Community

Most often, people think of charitable giving in connection with CSR programs. Though this is only one tenant of a successful CSR program, it is the most visible. Philanthropy as part of a holistic CSR program goes far beyond “writing the check” though. It is critical to engage employees in the outreach. Volunteerism, including free goods or services, “days in service,” etc., strengthen the CSR message from within. CSR no longer becomes a program, but becomes part of an organization’s culture and fabric.

CSR in Recruiting and Retention

The Greek philosopher, Heraclitus, is credited with saying that the only thing that is constant, is change. Recruiting and retention strategies have definitely changed over the years. It is no longer just about pay and benefits – work/life integration and social responsibility ranks high on the minds of millennials looking for a career. Companies looking to attract and retain the best and brightest should double down on their efforts to embody a socially responsible culture, and ensure that it is highlighted in recruiting and retention strategies.

What CSR Isn’t

CSR is not just for Fortune 1000 companies. Companies of all shapes and sizes can incorporate CSR into their organization. Start small and let it evolve.

CSR is not “one and done.” It’s an all-encompassing process with no end.

And finally, CSR isn’t something that should be ignored!

Faces of Philanthropy

What inspires you to give?

At PIMCO, we believe in the power of people to do good, individually and working together. We also believe in corporate citizenship as a powerful business practice. The PIMCO Foundation enables us to combine both, providing for transformative progress through simple acts of volunteering and giving around the world.

We’re inspired by the social issues facing us right here in Orange County, but also in the regions around the world where we have PIMCO offices.

We’re inspired by our nonprofit partners, who work around the clock to fight these social issues, like poverty, homelessness, hunger, inequality and more. It’s these organizations – and the individuals powering them – that are creating real systemic change in our society. As a corporate citizen and funder, we want to be intentional about the work we pursue with our nonprofit partners. And we want to be impactful with our investment – whether it be through grantmaking, volunteering, board service or building nonprofit capacity in other ways.

We’re inspired by our own colleagues, who give so much of their time and resources, and who generate real value in our community. My PIMCO colleagues are the ones who have built and contributed to our firm’s culture of service and purpose. Through our collective volunteerism and philanthropy, the benefits of giving back return to PIMCO in myriad ways: We strengthen networks and meet new colleagues. We build skills and stretch our personal comfort zones. We deliver solutions that help do good, sometimes drawing on our financial expertise and sometimes from our life experiences.

Giving back through the workplace is truly a win-win-win for our community, company and employees.

Summarize a personal experience you’ve had working with a nonprofit organization that has had the greatest impact on you.

Since 2008, PIMCO has been sending 100+ volunteers to the Special Olympics Southern California Summer Games. The Games attracts about 1,100 athletes with intellectual disabilities from all over Southern California.

For all of us from PIMCO who participate as Games volunteers, it is the most humbling, rewarding, transformative experience. The athletes are so excited to be at the Games – they hug you, high five you, show you their medals. When you see athletes race on the track, or in the pool, or run down the basketball court, you’re really witnessing the most incredible display of courage, determination and human spirit. When we volunteer at the Games, we get so much more than we give. It’s a life-changing weekend, for the athletes and for the volunteers.

What inspires you to give?

We’re inspired by our parents, our faith (otherwise known as “Catholic Guilt”) and the fact that we were the beneficiaries of “The California Dream.” Two young kids with little to no resources beyond the faith put in us by our parents who wanted a better life for ourselves. Free education to attend Santa Ana college (you don’t need a scholarship when it’s free), $50 a semester to attend Cal State Fullerton and a scholarship to Marquette University Law School. How can one not help when similar opportunities are no longer being provided to others?

I have known great hardship in my life. After my father died when I was two years old, my family went through the devastation of World War II. When I came to the United States after defecting from Communist Yugoslavia, I had only $200 in my pocket.

At the same time, I have been extraordinarily fortunate. Starting out from nothing, I was able to achieve the “American Dream.” I founded a pharmaceutical company in my garage in California and grew it into a successful multi-million dollar business. Through groundbreaking and innovative discoveries such as ribavirin, one of the first-ever broad-spectrum antiviral drugs, my company helped treat illnesses all over the world, including chronic lung disease in tens of thousands of infants. Later, as Prime Minister of my former country of Yugoslavia, I had the opportunity to serve as a foot soldier in the noblest battle there is – the battle for peace. After many years of struggle, I helped set the stage for the Dayton Peace Accords, which ended the bloody Bosnian War at last. I have spent decades since supporting peace, democracy, economic growth and civil liberties throughout the Balkans.

As a child in Tito’s Partisan army, facing the Nazis during World War II, I vowed to spend my life fighting for peace, saving lives and helping others. I’ve dedicated my life to this mission. America has given me so much. I want to do all that I can to give back, see that others have the same opportunities for success that I have, and make the world a better place for my children and grandchildren.

Summarize a personal experience you’ve had working with a nonprofit organization that has had the greatest impact on you.

When children were dying in my native country of Serbia from a preventable lung disease, I donated money so that every child in the region could take the vaccine that eliminated this scourge. I’ve also enjoyed giving millions of dollars over the years to support various universities, research programs, and arts and cultural institutions throughout America, as well as local support in Orange County to muscular dystrophy and the City of Hope. As I have said many times in the past, wealth is what you have in your heart, in your soul, not in gold or bank books. Whoever is not rich in his soul is poor. Giving in all these ways has made me rich, and I feel exceptionally fortunate that I have had the opportunity to help make a difference for the better.

FINANCIAL LITERACY & GOOD JOBS

WILL BREAK THE CYCLE OF POVERTY

#UNITED4OC  UnitedWayOC.org/INCOME
What inspires you to give?

We have been blessed in life and it feels good to be able to give back. Our ability to provide assistance to charitable organizations and different causes is more than a gesture, but a responsibility we feel as a way to share our success and opportunities with so many in need.

Giving is also contagious and helping others is one of the foundations on which The Word & Brown Companies is built. Our company has a long history of supporting organizations including Providence Speech and Hearing, Mission Hospital, the United Way of Orange County, the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation and other nonprofits across the country. In addition, our team goes above and beyond by creating new opportunities to give back. For example, our annual Operation Drumstick Program, which has been around for two decades, was an idea spearheaded by a long-term employee who recruited co-workers to make their favorite dishes and turned lunch into an annual fundraiser to support the Orange County Rescue Mission, raising thousands of dollars each Thanksgiving.

That spirit of giving not only runs deep for us, but across our entire organization.

Summarize a personal experience you’ve had working with a nonprofit organization that has had the greatest impact on you.

Edward J. “Rusty” Brown Jr.: Mission Hospital is one of the local organizations that has a special place in my heart. In 1985, my oldest son was hit by a car near our home. He was six years old and I stayed by his side as he remained in a coma for seven days. The hospital’s trauma center staff did everything they could to make both him and my family comfortable and cared for during his recovery. I will have always have a soft spot in my heart for Mission Hospital and their dedicated professionals.

John M. Word III: I’ve been associated with Providence Speech and Hearing Center since 1976. I have seen first-hand the difference the Center can make in the lives of children and adults, especially the expressions on the faces of young patients who are hearing their first words. It’s very rewarding to help others with the gifts of speech and hearing.

What inspires you to give?

Our satisfaction comes from contributing to cutting-edge organizations that have worldwide impact, and we’re fortunate to have been involved with places like UCI right here in Southern California. Our heroes are its students, doctors, scientists and staff who tackle the tough issues of the day – and of the future – on behalf of our other heroes: those living with and fighting the afflictions for which cures will be found. The Sue & Bill Gross School of Nursing will educate more nurses, who will go out into the community to provide compassionate care, and it will graduate highly-skilled teachers, who will then teach more nurses. So it will be much more than just a new building; it will be a place that enables people to transform lives. We expect our support for a nursing school to have broad impact as the demand for nurses and their teachers touches the heart of our health care system.

Summarize a personal experience you’ve had working with a nonprofit organization that has had the greatest impact on you.

Working with health care, medical research and educational organizations helps define success for us because it becomes a function of what we can do to help others throughout the world. Organizations like Doctors Without Borders and Mercy Ships give hope and care for the impoverished, and educational institutions like UCI are making great strides forward in finding treatments and cures for debilitating diseases and conditions. We have a keen interest in stem cell research, and about 10 years ago, we were invited to tour UCI’s Reeve Irvine Research Center. After learning about the breakthrough stem cell research being performed there, we knew we wanted to get involved. UCI is at the forefront of scientific research because of the interdisciplinary collaboration among its faculty, staff, and departments, and we are grateful for the opportunity to help facilitate research that will provide vast benefits for the citizens of Orange County and beyond.
What inspires you to give?
It is a natural urge to help others. Whether it is giving through monetary support, donating cans of food or school supplies, or rolling up my sleeves and giving my time to volunteer, I have a drive to help others in need. In fact, I am heavily involved in my volunteer fire department in my community. We are in a rural part of Orange County and do not have access to a county or city-funded fire department. I give my time on weeknights and weekends to help make sure the fire department is prepared and ready to respond to any situation. I do this because I want to see all my neighbors make it through any disaster we might encounter.

Summarize a personal experience you’ve had working with a nonprofit organization that has had the greatest impact on you.
I have been an advocate for Mazda’s involvement with the SPCA Monterey County, located right across the street from Mazda Raceway Laguna Seca. Mazda has partnered with SPCA Monterey on numerous occasions during race weekends where we have held open adoptions for race fans. It has resulted in my personal adoption of two dogs to accompany four other dogs, four cats, two horses, one mini horse, two mini donkeys and numerous goldfish, most of which are adopted. We also make monthly monetary donations to the SPCA Monterey County to help support their daily operational expenses.

What inspires you to give?
I have always known it is a greater blessing to give than to receive. Giving is a value that my parents instilled in me at a very early age. Today, my wife Kelly and I are living out this dream by sharing our blessings with others. We focus most of our philanthropic efforts on three initiatives: education, eye care and the arts. We chose education because we recognized during the 13 years we lived overseas that education is the foundation of any great country. For us, giving to educational causes is a way we can give back to our country. It was natural for us to choose to give to improve vision care as I have enjoyed a successful career in the ophthalmic industry. Giving in this area allows me the opportunity to give back to an industry that has been so very good to my family. And finally, the arts. This is perhaps the most personal for me as my father was a professional musician. By giving to the arts, I’m honoring his legacy and true passion. Giving is a true joy for Kelly and me!

Summarize a personal experience you’ve had working with a nonprofit organization that has had the greatest impact on you.
Establishing The Gavin Herbert Eye Institute was a true passion for me. This is due to my mentor, friends of the industry and the community. We were able to raise more than $40 million, all through philanthropic efforts. Our goal was to create a leading ophthalmic teaching and research institution here in Orange County. It is located on the UCI Campus. It was my privilege to help lead this effort to recognize my mentor Gavin Herbert, my dear friend Dr. Roger Steinert, and the tremendous physicians and ophthalmic companies here in Orange County. All with the goal to teach young minds to create new technologies through research, but more importantly, take excellent care of our patient community.

Raising the Roof, One Nonprofit at a Time

When we think of the phrase “the roof over your head,” words like home and shelter quickly come to mind. So it’s natural that when Charles Antis wanted to give back to the community, he used his Irvine-based company Antis Roofing & Waterproofing to do just that – literally. He has provided a roof over the heads of 60 families – donating roof installations for every house built in Orange County by Habitat for Humanity of Orange County since 2009. That’s more than $500,000 worth of roofs!

But Antis didn’t stop there. He has been figuratively “putting roofs over people’s heads” for many years, supporting life-changing work from a host of local nonprofits. Organizations such as Alzheimer’s Orange County (formerly Alzheimer’s Association, Orange County), Families Forward, Susan G. Komen Orange County and Pediatric Cancer Research Foundation are just a few of the organizations that have benefited from Antis’ philanthropy.

“When we recently announced our decision to become an independent nonprofit, we knew we could continue to count on Charles and Antis Roofing & Waterproofing to support the 84,000 Orange County residents affected by Alzheimer’s disease,” said Jim McAleer, CEO of Alzheimer’s Orange County. “Our 100 percent focus on Orange County, and Antis’ commitment to its local community, are more perfectly aligned than ever. We couldn’t be more proud to have a strong, local partner in the fight against this terrible disease.”

In fact, Antis has identified Alzheimer’s Orange County as a prime beneficiary of his company’s philanthropy this year. One reason is that Alzheimer’s has touched Antis’ family. He remembers the suffering his grandmother went through and this experience inspired him to be a bridge to the many local families affected by Alzheimer’s.

“We really appreciate the concentrated local focus of Alzheimer’s Orange County,” said Antis. “Local families in need are increasing in number each year – so it feels good when we can see exactly how our funds are being used to their best advantage.”

Since 1982, the local community has come to trust Alzheimer’s Orange County as a primary resource for those battling Alzheimer’s with no-cost services including a telephone hotline, family care consultations, caregiver support groups, early memory loss programs and education programs and workshops. That’s what matters most for Antis – it’s all about leaving a legacy of good in Orange County.

THE ANTS “PHILANTHROPY SUITE”

In addition to supporting 40 plus local charities and international humanitarian efforts through fundraisers, financial contributions and volunteerism, Antis Roofing & Waterproofing has found a truly innovative method of extending its philanthropy even farther. Coined the “philanthropy suite,” Antis dedicates his suite at the Honda Center to local nonprofits, rotating amongst organizations he supports, to allow board members, volunteers and staff to create or deepen relationships with potential donors, executives and community leaders. More than 30 nonprofits have benefited from Antis’ suite.

Are you a nonprofit? Contact Cori Vernam, Marketing Manager, at cori@antisroofing.com if you are interested in partnering with Antis.

FUNDRAISING EVENTS
- Go Red For Women Luncheon
- Heart & Stroke Walk
- Heart Ball

VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES
Volunteer opportunities range from year-round executive leadership to day-of-event volunteer opportunities.

GIVING OPPORTUNITIES
- Corporate sponsorship
- Cause marketing campaigns
- Point of purchase retail initiatives
- Personal fundraising through the Heart & Stroke Walk
- Individual giving opportunities, which include membership in our giving societies, the Circle of Red, King of Heart, and Cor Vitae

FAST FACTS
- What percentage of total revenue goes to cause (after operation expenses)? 80%
- What was your greatest community impact in 2015?
  - Teaching Gardens hosted more than 50 planting, growing and harvesting events in underserved schools
  - 114,806 OC residents trained in CPR
  - 38,843 children participated in Jump Rope for Heart & Hoops for Heart
  - $2,710,826 raised for cardiovascular research and education

GOALS FOR 2016
- Raise $3.5 million, through our signature events, Heart Ball, Heart Walk and Go Red for Women Luncheon, to support cardiovascular disease & stroke research and education
- The Orange County Board of Directors is diligently working to implement CPR as a graduation requirement in Orange County High Schools. Teaching our high school students the lifesaving skill of CPR before they graduate would put thousands of qualified lifesavers in our community, year after year. CPR in Schools empowers the youth of California and helps us add more lifesavers to our community. Each year, nearly 326,000 people have sudden cardiac arrest outside of a hospital. Not even a third receives CPR from a bystander and only 10.4% survive. Three to five minutes is a matter of life and death for sudden cardiac arrest victims. When a CPR-trained bystander is near, and can act quickly and effectively, survival rates can double – even triple!

VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES

The American Red Cross relies on volunteers to help us with our mission of providing care and comfort to those in need. There are endless volunteer opportunities with the American Red Cross Serving Orange County.

- Providing resources to under-resourced families during the annual Children’s Safety Festival.
- Strengthening community resilience through support of the annual Disaster Preparedness Academy.
- Employee engagement and/or corporate sponsorship of Red Cross Home Fire Campaign events.

Through these events, we install free smoke alarms and provide fire safety information to residents in vulnerable communities in order to decrease home fire-related deaths and injuries. Nationwide, this campaign has saved 77 lives. Locally, we have installed thousands of free smoke alarms since the program launch in 2014.

FAST FACTS

What is your Charity Navigator Rating (1 - 4)?
3 stars

What percentage of total revenue goes to cause (after operation expenses)?
85%

What was your greatest community impact in 2015?
We provided braille training, infant vision stimulation, deaf-blind intervention, therapeutic and support services to more than 190 children with visual impairments to foster independence and encourage integration into the sighted world.

GIVING OPPORTUNITIES

We depend on the generous support of individuals, corporations, and foundations for 60% of our annual operating budget. Tuitions and fees only cover 40% of the actual cost to provide occupational therapy, physical therapy, pediatric speech therapy, early Braille instruction, and orientation and mobility training (cane travel and safety skills). 60% of our students come from low-income families without access to these critical resources that are necessary for children with visual impairments to reach their full potential.

You can help our children meet and surpass their goals by making a contribution to one or more of the following core programs:

- Global Infant Development (birth to three years) – provides home-based early intervention services for newly diagnosed and medically fragile babies.
- Bright Visions Early Childhood Center (six weeks to six years) – provides an inclusive program that encourages hands-on exploration and learning.
- Youth Outreach Program (kindergarten through 12th grade) – provides specialized education and training for students who have mainstreamed into public school classrooms.
- Make a one time or monthly donation
- Sponsor a special event
- Utilize your company’s matching gift program to maximize your donation
- Include Blind Children’s Learning Center in your estate plan
- Transfer stock, property or other securities to Blind Children’s Learning Center

Being a role model is as easy as just showing up! We offer a unique opportunity to give back and be a role model at the Club through Mentor Days. We provide corporate partner volunteers with an opportunity to interact directly with the Club kids, experience the programs firsthand, and witness the impact their time and talent make. Mentor Days allow flexibility in scheduling and provide an afternoon (typically 2-3 hours) of meaningful interaction for corporate partners with anywhere from 10-160 volunteers. We also have more in-depth volunteer opportunities for those looking for a longer term commitment.

GIVING OPPORTUNITIES

- Community events, such as our backpack/school supply drive and holiday toy drive
- Sponsor-a-youth program
- In-kind donations

Goals for 2016

- Expansion of our Early Literacy Program from 4 to 10 sites, serving more than 700 kids with targeted daytime literacy intervention, and the guidance, encouragement and resources needed to set and obtain their educational goals and strengthen their academic aptitude, health awareness, and college and career ambitions.
- Expand our College Bound Program to 2 high schools, providing ample opportunity to grow our reach and help more students reach high school graduation and college success through mentoring, college counseling, college readiness programs and tutoring.

Myth:
Children can’t get depressed.

Truth:
Signs of depression can appear as early as five.

Approximately 150,000 children living in Orange County suffer from a diagnosable mental health condition – yet there are no psychiatric inpatient beds for patients under age 12 in local hospitals, insufficient beds for adolescents and very few outpatient programs. Along with our community partners, our goal is to create an integrated and coordinated mental health system of care for children, teens and young adults.

CRF remains focused on its mission to find a cure for cystinosis and continues to fund stem cell and gene therapy research with the goal of FDA approval for the first autologous stem cell trial in 2016.

Cystinosis Awareness & Research Effort
When you have hope, anything is possible.

Cystinosis is a rare, metabolic disease that slowly destroys the body's organs, including the kidneys, liver, eyes, muscles, bone marrow, thyroid and brain. There is medication to control some of the symptoms of the disease, but cystinosis remains incurable.

When Nancy and Jeff Stack established the Cystinosis Research Foundation in 2003 they were committed to aggressively fund cystinosis research to ensure the development of new and improved therapies and a cure for cystinosis. Never in their wildest dreams could they have imagined what has been accomplished in 13 short years.

With the help of their wonderful community, generous family and friends and a village of cystinosis families, CRF has raised more than $30.5 million dollars for cystinosis research making CRF the largest fund provider of cystinosis research in the world. CRF has issued 134 grants to top universities and institutions in 12 countries.

Nancy and Jeff, and the entire CRF community recognize that there is hope through research as CRF-funded researchers and scientists continue to work diligently to find better treatments and a cure for cystinosis. CRF is on the road to a cure and we need your help more than ever.

MISSION STATEMENT
To provide the transforming gift of mobility to people with disabilities in developing nations as motivated by Jesus Christ.

SERVICE AREA

In nations where poverty pervades, an estimated 100 million people are in desperate need of a wheelchair, yet lack the resources to obtain one. Already suffering from the pain, isolation and indignity of a physical disability, they endure further burdens – many forced to live on the ground waiting to be carried to meet their most basic needs.

“Having leadership skills is the golden ticket in life, and I was lucky enough to learn them in Girl Scouts.”

Priya aligned her leadership skills with her interest in engineering and science to create a physics boat building competition for her school. She worked with teachers, administration, the school principal, and the student body to set up a committee, organize, and promote the event. Although other students questioned why she was planning a “boy activity,” Priya challenged the stereotype that girls don’t belong in STEM fields. Today, Priya continues to confidently pursue her passions with strong character. She knows there are no limits to what she can achieve.

At Girl Scouts, we know that when given the opportunity, girls change the world. When you support Girl Scouts as a volunteer or donor, you help more than 21,000 Orange County girls gain the skills and confidence to discover their inner strength and make the world a better place.

FUNDRAISING EVENTS

Team in Training provides teams and individuals expert training to complete a marathon, half-marathon, century cycle ride, triathlon or hike in exchange to raise necessary funds for blood cancer research.

Light the Night is LLS’s annual fundraising walk, where we pay tribute and bring hope to those touched by blood cancer. Teams of co-workers, friends and families work together to raise funds for LLS and celebrate their success at the Walk.

Student Series are service learning programs designed to teach students about philanthropy, teamwork and leadership. Students work together collecting spare change to raise funds in honor of local patients.

The Man & Woman of the Year campaign is a high-level fundraising campaign among business and community leaders, who compete for the honor of being the Man or Woman of the Year. Candidates who raise the most funds over the 10-week campaign will be awarded the title of Man or Woman of the Year.

The Annual Spring Appeal encourages donors to give to the mission by providing necessary funding to directly support the research and patient services programs.

Plasticos Foundation

FUNDRAISING EVENTS

Sunday in the Vineyard, in partnership with Marconi Foundation for Kids
October 23, 2016 – Marconi Automotive Museum

VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES

There are several ways to support the vital work of Plasticos Foundation:
➤ Friends of Plasticos – Supports the mission of the Plasticos Foundation by raising funds and awareness
➤ Medical Mission Team Members – Doctors and nurses participating in overseas surgical trips

GIVING OPPORTUNITIES

Each year, Plasticos Foundation receives multiple requests from hospitals worldwide, seeking medical help for desperate children in their community and training for their doctors. The ability to respond is directly proportionate to charitable contributions received. All members of the surgical teams are volunteers, allowing us to change the lives of 80-100 children for approximately $50,000 per medical mission.

In order to perform safe and sanitary procedures, the donated funds help us provide all pharmaceuticals and medical equipment, such portable anesthesia machines, surgical instruments and supplies. Additionally, we bring a satellite phone, which we donate to the hospital to maintain communication, providing consultation and training as needed.

We do not receive government funding and are deeply grateful for private donations, which allow us to send volunteer surgeons and nurses, secure medical equipment and supplies, identify host-country doctors to train, and most importantly, to carefully screen and select children in need of care.

GOALS FOR 2016

➤ Perform life-changing surgery on 500-700 children
➤ Increase funding to fulfill additional mission requests
➤ Positively impact access to care in underdeveloped countries as a board member of the Global Alliance for Surgical, Obstetric, Trauma and Anesthesia Care (G4 Alliance)

FAST FACTS

Gold

What percentage of total revenue goes to cause (after operation expenses)?

What was your greatest community impact in 2015?
With multiple requests coming from doctors and hospitals in impoverished regions across the globe, the volunteer mission committee prioritizes based on urgency, number of children in need of surgery, number of host-country doctors willing to receive training and available hospital beds. The inability to fill every request is heart-wrenching for the volunteer surgeons and nurses who leave their jobs and families, sometimes at great sacrifice, to help children. During a medical mission, 80-100 children receive free, life-changing surgery. Once the Plasticos Foundation team departs, trained host-country doctors not only perform surgeries, they have mastered self-sufficiency and leverage impact by identifying and training additional doctors at the host hospital, local hospitals and eventually, outlying regions. During the development of sustainability, Plasticos Foundation offers multi-level support. 2016 missions include Cuba, Ecuador, Guatemala, Mexico, Mozambique, Nepal and Vietnam.

The Plasticos Foundation

In poverty stricken, underdeveloped countries, it is common for children born with disfiguring conditions to be feared, shunned or ostracized by cultures that may interpret these maladies as punishment, a curse or the result of malevolent spirits or karma. Thus, the children and their families resign themselves to the pain and shame that accompany abnormalities. These children are commonly hidden from society and never allowed to run, play, laugh and thrive.

Plasticos Foundation is dedicated to improving the lives of children through reconstructive plastic surgery worldwide. By performing surgery free of charge for children with traumatic injuries and correctable deformities, the volunteer medical teams save them from a life of profound suffering and possibly death. Additionally, to ensure that many more children receive care once the medical mission is complete, our surgeons train host-country doctors in the art of plastic surgery, to carry on the work.

Founded in 1999 by Dr. Larry Nichter, the renowned plastic surgeon featured in the Academy Award winning documentary short, A Story of Healing, Plasticos Foundation strives to be an enduring philanthropic plastic surgical organization based on humanitarian goals and values. By establishing host-country medical alliances, we are able to scale impact, fulfilling our mission to provide reconstructive plastic surgical training and care to those in need, regardless of their ability to pay, and to advance the field of plastic surgery through education and research.

PROJECT HOPE ALLIANCE
ENDING THE CYCLE OF HOMELESSNESS, ONE CHILD AT A TIME.

A stable home is the set of wings that helps a child’s education soar. Without one, children are forced to focus on where they will sleep instead of what they will learn. For more than 25 years, we have been ending the cycle of homelessness today and preventing homelessness tomorrow. Our impactful two-generational approach ends homelessness today by rapidly rehousing the working-poor families we serve and helping them achieve financial independence. We end homelessness tomorrow by empowering our kids with a unique academic program lovingly tailored to their skills and strengths.

EDUCATION + HOUSING = HOPE

Give today. Together we can and will end the cycle of homelessness, one child at a time.

Providence Speech and Hearing Center

FUNDRAISING EVENTS
Providence Speech and Hearing Center hosts two major fundraising events each year where you and/or your organization can connect directly with the vital work Providence does for the speech and hearing impaired community of Orange County.

32nd Annual Golf Classic
Monday, June 6, 2016 – Coto de Caza Golf & Racquet Club

51st Annual Benefit Gala
Saturday, October 22, 2016 – Disneyland Hotel

VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES
Providence offers a variety of volunteer opportunities, from working with the children in our on-site Therapeutic Preschool program to assisting at fundraising events and collaborating on special service projects. We welcome the opportunity to discuss additional options for those volunteer groups who have special interests or skills.

GIVING OPPORTUNITIES
Providence is the only safety net clinic of its type in southern California, the only service provider willing to accept patients with Medi-Cal and other government-sponsored insurance. Approximately 64% of our work is dedicated to low-income people who are either uninsured or underinsured. Children make up 96% of our low-income patient population.

In order to continually provide the highest standard of services in the identification, diagnosis, treatment, and prevention of speech, language and hearing disorders to our low-income patient population, we offer limitless opportunities for giving, from cash and in-kind donations to memorial gifts and long-term planned giving.

Why give? Recent research shows a connection between spoken and written language, finding that “spoken language provides the foundation for the development of reading and writing.” Helping children overcome a speech delay is a matter of literacy and success throughout their educational careers. Hearing loss remains the number one congenital defect of babies, more prevalent than the second and third most common defects/diseases combined. Research indicates that hearing-impaired infants who receive intervention by the time they are six months old will develop language comparable to their normal-hearing peers.

Your investment in a speech delayed or hearing impaired child today makes a difference for a lifetime.

Very few people are in a position to actually change lives.

But you are.

When children go hungry, they’re much more likely to fail in school and have significant health problems. Today, 151,000 children are going hungry right here in Orange County. And you have a unique opportunity to make sure that doesn’t happen.

At Second Harvest, our programs reach children and their families at school, after school, and in their neighborhoods. More than 90 cents of every dollar donated goes directly to feeding the hungry, yet we’re still only reaching half of them.

You and your organization can help us create a pantry at schools in neighborhoods that desperately need food. You can sponsor a food drive, or design a matching grant program so that every dollar you and your co-workers give provides three meals. Your investment will change the life, and the future, of every child you reach. To learn more, visit FeedOC.org or call (949) 653-2900.

Special thanks to City National Bank for their generous underwriting.

Pink Tie “Guys” at Komen’s Pink Tie Ball: Each year at the Pink Tie Ball, Komen Orange County honors seven men in the community who are providing outstanding support of the Komen mission. Pictured here are the 2015 Komen Pink Tie Guys along with previous years’ honorees attending the 2015 Komen Pink Tie Ball at the Orange County Great Park.
OUR VISION: A WORLD WITHOUT BREAST CANCER

At Susan G. Komen® Orange County, our mission is always abundantly clear - to end breast cancer.

But the fact remains that our loved ones, and many more people we do not know, are still dying of breast cancer. Each day, in Orange County, more than 5 women will be diagnosed with breast cancer, and 1 will die.

It is true, we are making an impact because we know more people are living longer and thriving after a breast cancer diagnosis. And still, every heartbreaking death from breast cancer is a reminder that together, with our collective knowledge and unfailing determination, we are needed more than ever.

Thank You to our 2016 Pink Tie Ball Chairs

About 400 low-income youth and their families line up to audition for enrollment at The Wooden Floor each year. Less than 1 in 4 can be accepted due to high student retention and space constraints, amplifying the need for the organization’s vision to serve more youth in 2016.
The Wooden Floor is honored to receive the prestigious Leadership Circle Award from the PIMCO Foundation, given to only two recipients in the nation in 2015.

"Recipients of this award are poised to drive social change and progress...and are organizations adept at growing their impact and demonstrating ingenuity, while maintaining their quality and increasing their results," said Sarah Middleton, Executive Director of the PIMCO Foundation and Vice President for Global Corporate Citizenship.

The Wooden Floor thanks the PIMCO Foundation for this honor as we continue on our path toward serving more local students with our successful youth development model.

The next war will be the one he fights at home.

He served for 16 years. He was responsible for coordinating critical life-saving supplies to over 600,000 fellow soldiers. He is detailed oriented. Mission-driven. A team player.

He would make a great asset to your company and he's ready to serve you. All he needs is a chance.

At Working Wardrobes, our VetNet program helps military personnel transition to civilian life through skills assessments, job training and placement services, career development programs, image workshops – and a great looking suit for that important job interview.

Our Veteran clients are poised, confident, trained, disciplined, and job-ready!

Hire a Veteran today...because the greatest gift we give our Veterans is the dignity of work.

“Since 2012, Wells Fargo has hired over 5,500 veterans because we know the tremendous contributions they bring to our company, and because we care enough to thank them for their service with the dignity of work.

We urge other businesses to do the same.”

Giving back and providing support to our neighbors

"I’ve been fortunate enough to volunteer at the Y, and it has been so rewarding knowing that I’m helping to make a difference, setting an example for my child, and being able to give back to the community."

- 2015 YMCA Member & Volunteer

At the Y, strengthening community is our cause. We are a powerful association of men, women and children joined together by a shared commitment to nurturing the potential of kids, promoting healthy living and fostering a sense of social responsibility. Every day, we work side by side with our neighbors in our community to make sure that everyone, regardless of age, income or background, has the opportunity to learn, grow and thrive.

We provide over $1,000,000 in financial assistance on an annual basis to help people of all ages and all walks of life to be more healthy, confident, connected and secure.

"The Y has been instrumental in the lives of our two daughters and our family as a whole. Our girls absolutely love the Y, for all of the activities and positive attention they receive when their mother and I are at work and can’t be with them. The Y staff helps them with their homework as well as encourages them to want to do well in school and in life. Service learning projects are a big part of this and I believe that it is laying a wonderful foundation for the people they will become."

- 2015 YMCA Parent

“My daughter feels at home there. She is supported and challenged. I get peace of mind knowing that she is taken care of and knowing the staff will help her make progress on homework when I don’t have the time."

- 2015 YMCA Childcare Parent
They say that home is where the heart is. For all of us who call Orange County home, we will have a unique opportunity to give where our hearts live during the second annual iOC Giving Day hosted by the Orange County Community Foundation.

Are you inspired to help students through afterschool programs? Support research to find a cure? Maybe art is where your heart is. Whatever your passion, iOC Giving Day is a great way to show your love for our community!

Show Your Love to a Local Nonprofit

In celebration of our 25th anniversary, OCCF challenged Orange County residents to “give where their heart lives” during the inaugural iOC Giving Day in April 2015.

The goal was simple: inspire giving—especially among first-time donations—and raise awareness for local nonprofits. And you more than rose to the occasion. We counted 6,139 contributions, totaling more than $1.8 million in just 30 hours for 347 participating nonprofits across Orange County.

Not only did small gifts add together to deliver a big impact, the ease of iOC online giving showed that acts of generosity don’t have to take a lot of time. In this case, it took only a click to show you care.

The first iOC Giving Day was such a success that we’re doing it again—from 6 am April 27 through noon April 28, 2016. And with more than 400 organizations participating this year, you’ll have plenty of opportunities to support the causes and programs closest to your heart.

How Does It Work?

Anyone can donate to their favorite nonprofits on iHeartOC Giving Day. You can use your smartphone, tablet or PC to visit iheartoc.org during the 30-hour giving marathon, and every dollar donated will be leveraged by bonus awards and prizes to increase the impact of your contribution. The leaderboard at iheartoc.org will show a running tally throughout the event so you can keep tabs on your favorite organizations along the way.

And be sure to follow iHeartOC across your favorite social media channels. You won’t want to miss any exciting tweet, Instagram-worthy moment or gotta-love-it Facebook post.

Whatever your passion, iHeartOC Giving Day is the perfect way to put your philanthropy into action. Please visit iheartoc.org—and let’s come together to show our local nonprofits how much we care!

• Nearly 1 in 200 Americans are affected by Crohn’s disease and ulcerative colitis, also known as Inflammatory Bowel Diseases (IBD). These are medically incurable digestive diseases.
• The fastest growing patient population is children under the age of 18.
• The annual cost of IBD in the U.S. is an estimated $2.2 billion.
• These diseases are debilitating, misunderstood, and misdiagnosed.

Building strong relationships in our community

In 2015 the Orange County Foundation and Team Members donated more than $6 million to nonprofits and schools in Orange County in addition to over 15,000 team member volunteer hours in local nonprofits of their choosing.

The opportunity to show our commitment to our communities across Orange County means a lot to us. What each of us contributes can, together, make life better for everyone.

We are proud to be a part of the Orange County community
