Savvy homeowners in Southern California are well-versed in the art of life on a grander scale, and naturally, their preference for the finer things tends to extend to home purchases. One home option that is captivating this market segment for both primary homes and vacation retreats is Lake Las Vegas in Henderson, Nevada. This intimate, master-planned community has quickly become a favorite destination for resort-inspired lifestyles, attracting those who desire magnificent homes, low property taxes and a vibrant lifestyle for a fraction of California real estate costs.

The majority of these buyers are immersed in the bustle of city life, where grid-locked roads and escalating expenses are the price of a comfortable West Coast existence. That’s exactly why so many are turning to Lake Las Vegas. This inviting master-plan is comfortably luxurious, with an easygoing pace and invigorating atmosphere that connects people and inspires fun. Typically, residents are on-the-go here — walking the trails to catch another spectacular sunrise, hitting the lake for water sport thrills, playing 18 holes on the Jack Nicklaus-designed course, or meeting up with friends for a monthly wine and dinner event.

Simply put — the quality of life at Lake Las Vegas is far from ordinary. In fact, it rises above expectations in countless ways.

To begin, consider the home options available to buyers. There are six exclusive, gated neighborhoods within Lake Las Vegas, each built by some of the most respected homebuilders in the nation. Offerings include Regatta Pointe and Regatta Heights by CalAtlantic Homes; The Peaks by William Lyon Homes; Monte Lucca by Century Communities; Lago Vista, a William Lyon Signature collection; and nine luxurious one-acre custom waterfront lots, including the first completed custom home — a stunning Swaback Partners-designed estate. These beautiful collections feature contemporary architectural styles in one- and two-story designs that are showcased in sixteen professionally decorated model homes. The floorplans all reveal flowing, open interiors that are perfect for entertaining; a host of modern appointments; large outdoor areas to enjoy the surroundings; and spectacular views. Prices start from the mid $300,000s to over $1 million, which delight Southern California buyers who are accustomed to dramatically higher costs.

That value encompasses far more than the comforts of home, though. Lake Las Vegas itself is distinguished by a resort-inspired atmosphere that seamlessly balances beauty and fun. The centerpiece feature is the spectacular 320-acre, man-made lake — a rare amenity that is enriched by an abundance of recreational opportunities. With LLV Water Sports, visitors satisfy every activity-level craving, whether it’s low-key leisure or high-octane thrills. Just some of the activities include gliding across the water on kayaks; Duffy boat rentals; kayaking; stand-up paddles; or soaring through the air with Flyboard or Jetpack experiences. Another action-packed option is to board, surf or go tubing at the wakeboard cable park, where an automated cable pulls riders across the lake, over ramps and back again.

Of course, water adventure is only the beginning. The array of activities on-land are just as enticing. The master-plan is home to the exquisite Reflection Bay® Golf Club, which features Nevada’s first resort golf course designed as a prestigious Jack Nicklaus Signature Design and white sand beach along the northern shore of the lake and showcases pristine greens and memorable design elements, including a stunning peninsula that dramatically juts into the lake. Reflection Bay was named one of the Top 100 Resort Golf Courses in the U.S. in both 2015 and 2016 and is ranked among America’s 100 Greatest Public Courses by Golf Digest. The Club also boasts a lavish 32,000-square-foot clubhouse with a full golf shop, as well as the Reflection Bay® Bar & Grill — a dining hotspot featuring season 12’s Hell’s Kitchen-winner, Chef Scott Commins, at the helm.

In addition to golf and dining at Reflection Bay, the community is filled with options for recreation and leisure, ranging from hiking and biking trails and strolls along the lake promenade to slingshot car rentals through LLV Water Sports. After a day outdoors, two premier hotel spas are on-site at the Westin Lake Las Vegas and Hilton Lake Las Vegas, offering a full range of treatments to soothe body and mind, and enhancing the community’s resort atmosphere. For socializing, shopping, gaming and lakeside dining, the charming, Mediterranean-styled MonteLago Village has every convenience, from al fresco restaurants to Seasons Grocery℠, a full-service grocery store and coffee bar with lake views.

One of the biggest advantages to the Lake Las Vegas lifestyle is the setting in Henderson, Nevada; a premier location that is close enough to major attractions, but far enough to provide a quiet retreat. Case in point: the famed Las Vegas Strip is a mere 25-minute drive from home, popular Lake Mead is just minutes away, and the International Airport is 20 minutes via Interstate 215. Family buyers are consistently impressed with Henderson’s ranking as one of the safest cities in the nation, and its top-rated, public educational institutions are hard to beat. Lake Las Vegas children attend Clark County’s International Baccalaureate (IB)-designated B. Mahlon Brown Academy of International Studies Middle School; the high-achieving, IB-designated Basic Academy International Studies High School; and the new Josh Stevens Elementary School, which is nearby the community and opens this fall. Rounding out the conveniences are a number of state-of-the-art medical centers nearby, including the new Henderson Hospital just one and a half miles away.

When it comes to considering a move to Lake Las Vegas, there is one final motivating factor that cannot be overlooked — Nevada itself. Not only is it beautiful and diverse, but from a financial standpoint, the state is on the rise and offers a myriad of benefits. According to Forbes magazine, Nevada has the best economic forecast in the nation with major companies coming, the Raiders football team on its way, the new NHL expansion team, the Vegas Golden Knights and a high number of startups opening their doors. There is also no state income tax and low property taxes — two details that greatly appeal to Californians.

On every level, Lake Las Vegas provides an exquisite, fun-filled place to call home. Visit the resort-inspired community soon, tour the 16 stunning model homes, and discover the value and luxury of lakeside living. To learn more, tour the community information center, visit www.LakeLasVegas.com or call 866.389.6882.

Orange County’s iconic Lido Theater has been the setting of many special events over the years, including corporate presentations, charity fund raisers, private screenings and birthday parties, as well as the annual Closing Night Gala for the Newport Beach Film Festival. The unmatched venue can make your next corporate or private event one to remember.

Harkening back to the Golden Age of Hollywood, the Lido Theater will commemorate its 80th anniversary next year. The Newport Beach landmark opened in 1938 with the Bette Davis movie, “Jezebel.” A resident of nearby Corona del Mar, Miss Davis is said to have traveled by the site daily while the theater was being built, and requested a sitting parlor in the ladies room, that still remains today.

Meticulously restored, the Lido Theater still features some of the original Catalina tilework, revered at the time for its colorful hand painted beauty, and rarely seen in Southern California today. The single-screen auditorium walls have stunning murals depicting underwater ocean scenes that appear to glow from black lights illuminating the walls when the house lights dim.

Offering a new, state-of-the-art projection and sound system, along with its elegant lobby chandeliers, vintage poster cases, an original working box office, and the magnificent waterfall red velvet curtain on stage, the Lido Theater is one of Orange County’s most unique special event venues. The auditorium, including a balcony not seen in modern theaters, provides seating for up to 550 guests.

The Lido Theater is conveniently located at 3459 Via Lido, off Newport Boulevard, in picturesque Newport Beach. To book your next event at the theater, please call 949.723.7100.
