By Susan Beat, CTP, Managing Director, MUFG Union Bank, N.A.

Congratulations to the Orange County Business Journal’s Women in Business Awards honorees. Thank you and our local business leaders for your contributions to the growth of the Orange County economy. Orange County residents are known for civic pride and a willingness and generosity to support local nonprofits. This culture of giving supports the needs of our residents and the region—including schools, park space, clean beaches, and the arts. This helps our business community attract employees looking for a stable and growing environment to live and work and also helps support tourism.

As leaders, you have the unique opportunity to extend your giving and serve as role models for future leaders by contributing to nonprofits as board members.

“Our employees proudly partner with Orange County nonprofits to provide financial support as well as time and leadership to make a significant difference in the community.”
–Rossina Gallegos, Director, MUFG Union Bank Foundation

I began serving on nonprofit boards because a colleague shared that board service is a great way to develop skills to help advance your career while contributing to a cause. I have always been passionate about health-related causes because they directly impact so many in our community by improving quality of life. I have served as a board member of the Arthritis Foundation, the MUFG Union Bank Foundation, and other organizations. These years of board service have been gratifying. I found that board members gain not only the satisfaction of knowing they are supporting an organization they believe in, but also a learning experience that opens doors to valuable networks and relationships.

Nonprofit Board Responsibilities

Each nonprofit’s board of directors provides an important part of the infrastructure for the organization’s management, as well as strategic planning for current and future success.

Aside from being an ambassador of the nonprofit and contributing some funding either through donations or fundraising, you can expect to apply your professional skills. Board member responsibilities include:

• Fiduciary guidance on operations, resources, fiscal accountability, as well as legal and compliance issues
• Strategic planning, including setting priorities and measuring plan progress
• Critical thinking by probing assumptions and logic, as well as assessing values behind strategies
• Human Resources management of organization leaders

Board Opportunities

You or your employer may already participate in events or contribute funds and volunteer hours to organizations that might need your leadership. Consider board invitations from organizations that support causes that are meaningful to you.

If you are looking for a new board role, tap into your professional and personal network and, if available, your employer’s community outreach department about volunteer organizations and opportunities. When volunteering, look for occasions to meet the executive director, key staff, and board members so that you can learn more about the nonprofit’s approach and structure. Board members are always recruiting the next board member, so they are generally willing to talk about the organization and board roles and potential positions.

Review profiles and posts within your professional and personal social network to learn about board experiences. Add your own interests to online profiles. Your banker and advisors are well connected with both the business and nonprofit communities and can make mutually beneficial introductions.

Evaluating the Board Position

When you consider taking a board position, assess the nonprofit and its board carefully.

• Attend a meeting and meet with the executive director or CEO to gain an understanding of the board functions. Ask yourself: can I work well with the other board members and executive director?
• Evaluate the stability of the organization by reviewing annual reports, by-laws, and financials. A reputable nonprofit is willing and able to provide this information to a prospective board member.
• Confirm that the organization has Directors and Officers (D&O) liability insurance.
• Assess the commitment to determine if it is a fit for you. Board members generally meet at least once each fiscal quarter, but also work outside of meetings, including serving as committee chairs. Consider that in crisis situations or when working with smaller organizations, you may be required to provide more support. Be cautious of a board invitation requiring only a minimal commitment.
• Review the position to determine whether it fits with your personal and/or professional goals as well as your employer’s goals.

“I am grateful to work at a company that actively supports the communities it serves and makes time for its employees to volunteer and serve in board roles. Your company may also have resources to help you find new board opportunities.”
–Susan Beat, CTP, Managing Director

Serving as a board member of a nonprofit can be rewarding professionally and personally. Assess your interests and strengths as well as the nonprofit and the board member position to find a situation that benefits both the nonprofit and you.

For 45 Years, Helping People Lose Has Proven to be a Winning Formula

Ready to make big changes in your body and your life—but feeling hesitant because your previous efforts may have fallen short?

Cynthia Stamper Graff knows how you feel. As Chief Programs and Science Officer at Lindora Clinic and author of four weight loss books—including The New Lean for Life—she has made a career out of helping people lose weight and reclaim their health.

Headquartered in Costa Mesa, Lindora operates 41 Southern California locations (including 12 in Orange County). Graff, an Orange County Business Journal 2012 “Excellence in Entrepreneurship” and 1998 “Women in Business” Award winner, says that understanding, employing and serving women has given Lindora a competitive advantage in a fiercely competitive market. Nearly 85% of the company’s clients—and 95% of their employees—are female.

We talked with Graff about Lindora’s Lean for Life program, the company’s 45th anniversary, and the challenges of remaining relevant in the eyes of consumers.

Your first book, Lean for Life, was published nearly 20 years ago and has sold more than a million copies. How is The New Lean for Life different?

“The new book includes the latest science on how the body, brain and gut interact—either to help you stay healthy or to stockpile more and more excess fat—depending on the food and activity choices you make.

The neuroscience of the brain is rapidly evolving. My co-author, Dr. Reginald Allouche, is a French researcher and one of the world’s foremost nutrition experts. We’ve included new research on the gut, which really is the new frontier of science. It plays host to ten percent of your body’s neurons and to the trillions of bacteria that make it hard to lose weight. Dr. Allouche’s research confirms that the Lean for Life program helps shrink the size of your fat cells twice as much as conventional diets.”

How does Lindora’s Lean for Life program differ from other diets?

“Our program offers much more than a diet. We teach people to become healthier by changing the behaviors and habits that contributed to their weight gain in the first place. We offer structure, support and cutting edge science in a nurturing environment, and we also offer a maintenance program that helps people keep the weight off once they lose it.

They see significant improvements in their health, such as lower blood pressure, cholesterol, and glucose levels, which motivates them to maintain the focus required to make lasting changes. This kind of change is often difficult to make on one’s own.”

Diabetes is a hot topic in the news. What are the risk factors—and what can people do to address them?

“When 30 million Americans have type 2 diabetes and one in three adults is pre-diabetic, it’s an important conversation. Achieving and maintaining a healthy weight is one of the most important ways to avoid or even reverse type 2 diabetes. That’s why we’re pleased to be recently recognized by the Centers for Disease Control as a Diabetes Prevention Program provider.

We offer a free pre-diabetes screening, and many who take it are surprised to learn their risk factors. The good news is that through weight loss and increased activity, healthy improvements can be achieved quickly.”

It’s challenging for any company to thrive over decades. How has Lindora done it?

“From day one, our mantra has been ‘Meet the patient’s needs.’ When I joined the company in 1989, my mission was to make our program more accessible to more people. Through our books, online program, and customized program options, we’ve made it easier than ever for busy people to make healthy changes in their lives. Our first clinics were typically located in medical settings. Today, our clinics are primarily in retail spaces. We’ve anticipated the needs of consumers and have been committed to making our services accessible and convenient, always delivering the results they expect. Our first patient from 45 years ago still visits periodically for a weight check and a hug.”

What’s next for the company?

“This is a big year for Lindora. We recently moved into new corporate headquarters. We’re launching an exciting rebranding campaign that will impact every aspect of our business—a new company logo, new website, new product packaging, new TV commercials, and a new look and feel inside our clinics.

We’re opening new clinics in Southern California, and we have Northern California in our expansion plans beginning in the third quarter. We’re also augmenting our online and mobile program options to meet the anticipated demand resulting from the national diabetes prevention initiative.

In five years, how do you anticipate Lindora will celebrate its 50th anniversary?

“With 65% of American adults being overweight or obese, the need for our Lean for Life solutions will continue to grow. We’ll continue to innovate and offer new concepts and approaches that will make it easier for people to manage their weight and improve their health. By doing this, I expect we’ll be even more relevant and successful than we are today.”

Why Women Leaders Need to Help Develop the Younger Generation

by Patty Juarez, Wells Fargo

Millennials have been a hot topic of discussion, and it’s easy to see why. Recent data shows that by 2020, millennials will represent nearly 50% of the workforce. Women have historically had a keen ability to engender trust and build relationships, two important qualities in a financial service professional. Moreover, there is a clear correlation between more women in leadership positions and the improved performance of companies they lead. So the imperative is clear; let’s get these young women ready to assume increasing levels of responsibility.

The importance of how women leaders can help develop younger generations of future leaders came to me in my role as co-chair of the Women’s Leadership Group at Wells Fargo. In Orange County, I work with a team of diverse financial professionals, and mentor high potential women. As I began working with millennials, from what I had read, implied that millennials feel entitled, their work ethic is not great and they need lots of flexibility.

However, as I started working with three young women, I immediately learned that these millennials are fantastic! In fact, they all worked incredibly hard, set very aggressive career goals and they value opportunities for advancement.

Many of my mentoring revolved around compensation discussions, make no mistake, millennials expect to be paid for their good work! Consequently, companies that are progressive in providing promotions and pay increases will fare much better in terms of retaining talent. As leaders, we must speak up and advocate for these women or we risk losing them because millennials want to feel valued and appreciated.

In working with Orange County middle market businesses, I see local businesses struggle with similar issues. They often cite talent management and motivating their workforce as the most pressing challenges they face in their companies along with regulatory pressures or finding funding sources. Finding motivating their workforce as the most pressing challenges they face in their businesses struggle with similar issues. They often cite talent management and decision-making for businesses with annual revenues of greater than $20 million. Asset-based lending, traditional secured loans, and capital markets provide access to working capital for day-to-day operations and growth.

Expertise and services are available to specialty industries, including food and agribusiness, healthcare, government, higher education, clean technology, and environmental services. Wells Fargo has the highest market share of middle-market company relationships in the U.S., according to the 2013 TNS Commercial Banking Momentum Monitor. Winner of the 2015 TNS Choice Awards, Wells Fargo is the No. 1 preferred bank by companies in the U.S. with annual sales of $50 million to $2 billion.

Patty earned her bachelor’s degree in business from the University of California, Berkeley, and her MBA in business administration from St. Mary’s College of California in Moraga where she graduated with honors. Active in a variety of professional and community organizations, Patty sits on the board of CASA (Court Appointed Special Advocates) of Orange County and heads up its board development effort. CASA is an organization that trains community volunteers to serve as powerful mentors and advocates for our community’s abused, abandoned, and neglected children. She is also a board member at the Prentice School. The Prentice School is a private, nonprofit school that provides specialized programs to students with learning differences. Patty is also on the Leadership Council for THINK Together, an organization that provides high-quality, academically-oriented after school programs for students in disadvantaged communities. She sits on the Dean’s Board of Counselors for Chapman University’s school of business and economics. Lastly, she is immediate past chair and board member of the Orange County Hispanic Chamber of Commerce, an organization that represents the interests of Orange County’s 33,000 Hispanic-owned businesses. Internally, Patty mentors team members throughout Wells Fargo, assists with the company’s diverse candidate recruitment, and chaired the Women’s Leadership Group and is active in the Diversity Council for Commercial Banking. In terms of recognition, the National Latina Business Women Association selected Patty as the Corporate Leader of the Year for their 2015 Women of Excellence Awards. In 2014, Patty was named “Woman of the Year” by the National Hispanic Business Women Association for her work in the corporate sector. As a result of her dedication to the community and her Board service in Orange County, Patty was honored with One OC’s Spirit of Volunteerism Award in 2013 and was recently named 2016 Volunteer of the Year by the OC Volunteer Chapter of Wells Fargo. Patty was also recognized by the Orange County Business Journal with Women in Business Nominations for 2013, 2014, 2015, and 2016. The Argyros School: Taking bold steps. Leading the way.

The AACSB-accredited Argyros School of Business and Economics at Chapman University offers students extraordinary access to integrated business education taught by deeply engaged faculty. Master’s level programs include:

- Master of Business Administration
- Full-time, Executive, or Professional
- International
- Integrated (4+1)
- Master of Science in Accounting
- Master of Science in Economic System Design
- Joint MBA programs with:
  - MFA Film & Television
  - MS Food Science
  - Juris Doctor (JD)

Students who graduate from Argyros do so with a strong understanding of how American business operates in the world and how they can contribute to it.

Executive MBA

In business, there is only one constant: Things will change. That’s why a growing number of forward-thinking mid-career managers and professionals are turning to the Executive MBA (EMBA) program at the Argyros School of Business and Economics.

Ranked among the top 100 business schools in both Bloomberg Business and U.S. News and World Report, the Argyros School at Chapman University offers an EMBA that helps executives gain the skills and confidence to excel in a competitive marketplace. The Argyros program features a practical yet dynamic curriculum that offers opportunities to network with top executives, cultivate lifelong friendships and business partners, learn from renowned faculty, and gain first-hand knowledge and experience in a global market.

Argyros EMBA students are immersed in both experimental and real-world business settings, connect theory to practical applications, and participate in hands-on learning with high-achieving peers, enabling them to build a strong foundation in every key business discipline.

The Argyros EMBA is a full-time program, specifically designed to accommodate full-time working executives. Classes meet twice weekly in the evenings and on weekends for 21 consecutive months. The program does require residential experience trips to San Diego; Washington, D.C.; and Asia. These trips provide students with opportunities to meet with and learn from business leaders in diverse global environments. Other highlights of the program include tutors, catered pre-class meals, textbook delivery, and one-on-one executive coaching.

Argyros EMBA Program highlights include:

- Three residential courses
- 21-month program
- Textbooks and case studies for all classes
- Private sessions with an executive coach
- Meals before class
- Tutors for quantitative courses

Professional MBA

In addition to its Executive MBA program, the Argyros School offers a part-time Professional MBA for career-minded individuals. This highly regarded program is offered in a flexible format, and allows students to customize their path. For example, working professionals who want to maintain momentum in their career may complete the program with evening courses. On the other hand, emerging professionals can opt for daytime courses and the Professional Development Program, which provides personal brand development and an active assessment of career options.

Students may also take advantage of leadership roles in the MBA Association and Argyros Ambassador programs, attend national conferences, participate in case competitions, and engage with top executives both inside and outside the classroom. The Professional MBA can be earned at a flexible pace in 21 to 28 months.

 Highlights of the Professional MBA include:
- Fall or Spring start
- Flexible course offerings in the day or evening
- Optional travel course to South America or Scandinavia
- Merit scholarship and graduate assistantship opportunities

Master of Science in Accounting (MSA)

This practical program is designed to qualify graduates to sit for the California CPA exam while earning a master’s degree. Students enjoy a highly personalized learning environment that offers:

- A keen understanding of the strategic role of accounting in business organizations
- The ability to apply ethical principles and responsibilities in accounting
- Expertise in the field using relevant academic and professional research
- The ability to communicate effectively and persuasively

The MSA program may be completed in 11 months, but the program length may vary depending on unfinished prerequisites. Classes meet in the evening. Students may also complete business courses offered in our AACSB-accredited and nationally ranked MBA program.

For complete information about all Argyros School programs, please visit Chapman.edu/Business.

Honoring Members of the Chapman Family

The Argyros School joins with the Orange County Business Journal in saluting the accomplishments of women involved in the OC business community. Their expertise, energy and determination continue to further the county’s reputation as a welcoming home for businesses that range from local to global.

Our warmest congratulations go out to members of the Chapman Family who were nominated for this special recognition this year:

Sheryl Bourgeois, Ph.D., Executive Vice President, Chapman University
Rebecca Hall, CEO, Idea Hall (BA 1996, Business Communications)
Kelly Vlahakis-Hanks, CEO, Earth Friendly Products (EMBA candidate, 2016)

What would the future look like if ALL girls developed the confidence and skills to take on the tough business challenges of tomorrow?

Orange County’s business community knows that preparing our girls to be tomorrow’s leaders is an absolute imperative – and that Girl Scouts is leading the charge.

Business Leaders and Girl Scouts Stand Up for Girls

Building Our Next Generation of Female Leaders

Now under construction in Newport Beach’s Marina Park is the Girl Scouts of Orange County Leadership Center, a first-of-its-kind interactive facility that will address the shortage of women in STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Math) by providing Orange County’s more than 21,000 Girl Scouts a place to embrace challenges, understand the role STEM plays in all careers through virtual interactions with extraordinary women spanning diverse careers, and learn to take action that leads to positive sustainable change in their community— all while enjoying waterfront activities and creating lifelong memories.

Scheduled to open in early 2017, the Girl Scouts of Orange County Leadership Center will also offer girls opportunities to apply their learning as they explore the Balboa Peninsula. Outdoor activities will include kayaking, sailing, and—building s’mores on the patio as the sun sets over the ocean. Returning home, girls will continue their career exploration and take action initiatives in their communities.

Celebrating Female Leaders

Girl Scouts of Orange County’s annual Celebrate Leadership event will recognize six Girl Scout alumnae who are making a difference in our community and raise funds for vital Girl Scout programs. Celebrate Leadership will take place on Friday, November 4 at The Island Hotel in Newport Beach. Honorees will be announced soon!

Your business can empower, educate, and prepare girls to become leaders by sponsoring or attending Celebrate Leadership — find out more at GirlScoutsOC.org/CelebrateLeadership.

For more information about Girls Scouts of Orange County’s upcoming events or to volunteer or make a donation, visit www.GirlScoutsOC.org.

Girl Scouts Works!

- 52% of all businesswomen in the United States were Girl Scouts
- 53% of female business owners were Girl Scouts
- One in two Girl Scout alumnae says Girl Scouts contributed to her success

Color Outside the Lines

Red and purple are power colors associated with strength, ambition and passion, and speak volumes about those who wear them. Artistically designed, Lugano Diamonds’ Purple Sapphire Free Form Earrings emanate a royal hue through a mix of pink, black and round brilliant diamonds set in black gold.

The color red symbolizes strength and the wearer is sure to radiate the same quality. Lugano Diamonds’ Oval Ruby Drop Earrings ‘wow’ with 9.30 carats of richly-colored unheated oval rubies set in 18 karat white gold.
For those women business owners who own highly appreciated business or investment real estate, there’s an effective tax and estate planning strategy at your disposal: the Section 1031 “like-kind” exchange. It can help you defer capital gains taxes on appreciated property indefinitely — and even eliminate them permanently.

Sec. 1031 allows you to exchange one or more pieces of business or investment real estate for other business or investment real estate without recognizing capital gain. Despite the term “like-kind,” you can exchange, for example, an apartment complex for a strip mall. The only limitation is that the value of the new properties should be equal to or greater than the value of the existing properties. If you receive any cash or other non-real-estate property, it’ll be currently taxable.

Few Sec. 1031 exchanges involve a direct exchange of one property for another. Most are structured as “deferred exchanges.” In other words, you sell your property (the “relinquished” property) and then use the proceeds to acquire new property (the “replacement” property).

Safe harbors to be aware of

The key to avoiding capital gains tax in an exchange is to ensure that you never possess or control the sale proceeds. And the best way to do that is to use one of several IRS safe harbors. With a deferred exchange, you sell the relinquished property (or properties) and engage a qualified intermediary (QI) to hold the proceeds and buy replacement property (or properties). If you identify replacement property within 45 days and complete the purchase within 180 days after the relinquished property is sold, the capital gain is deferred.

With a reverse exchange, you engage a QI to acquire replacement property before you sell relinquished property. To defer capital gain, you must identify the relinquished property within 45 days and complete the sale within 180 days. To avoid holding title to relinquished and replacement properties at the same time, you must “park” replacement properties with an “exchange accommodation titleholder” until the transaction is completed.

These and other safe harbors (such as trusts and qualified escrow accounts) aren’t the only way to complete a Sec. 1031 exchange. But if you do an exchange outside the safe harbors, the IRS may challenge it and treat the transaction as taxable.

Harnessing the power of estate planning

Although a Sec. 1031 exchange is best known as a tax-deferral technique, it’s also a powerful estate planning tool. Ordinarily, when you sell appreciated real estate you must pay taxes on the gain at rates as high as 20%, leaving less to pass on to your children or other heirs.

If you hold onto property for life, however, the capital gains disappear. Your heirs receive a “stepped-up basis” in the property equal to its fair market value on your date of death, erasing any previous appreciation in value and allowing them to turn around and sell the property tax-free.

Exchanging properties for TIC interests

A tactic to consider is exchanging a single property for several tenancy-in-common (TIC) interests. TIC interests are fractional, undivided interests in larger properties. Exchanging real estate for TIC interests not only defers capital gains taxes, but also gives you access to professionally managed, institutional-grade real estate. And it provides some interesting estate planning opportunities, such as passing on TC interests equally to heirs.

Southern Californians are now busily planning their trips to celebrate the centennial of the U.S. National Park Service (NPS), which officially occurs on Aug. 25 but is being commemorated throughout 2016. The Automobile Club of Southern California has a variety of services enabling parks visitors of all ages to enjoy their trips and return home with a renewed appreciation for America’s natural wonders.

New National Parks “mini map” for kids
This Auto Club map of the U.S. displays all 57 national parks in the 50 states and provides facts, educational games and road trip activities to keep youngsters busy on the drive. It’s available free to Auto Club members and costs $1.95 for non-members.

Paper maps and AAA TourBooks
- Paper maps are great planning tools for vacations of all types, and they don’t need battery power or cell phone service to work in remote areas. AAA maps are free to members and available for non-member purchase at Auto Club branches, and include maps that cover all regions of the U.S., in addition to separate guides/maps for national park areas that include:
  - Yosemite National Park Commemorative Edition – This limited-edition map celebrates the centennial of the NPS with historical photos and maps of the park from the Auto Club’s archives, as well as the latest information on points of interest, campgrounds and nearby lodging.
  - Sequoia and Kings Canyon National Parks Guide Map – These two adjacent national parks in the western United States are often visited together and include majestic giant sequoia forests, breathtaking waterfalls, opportunities for river rafting, and trails including tidewater lagoons, the world-famous General Sherman tree, and miles of hiking trails including part of the Pacific Crest Trail running from the Mexico to the Canada borders. The map provides details on attractions, activities, camping facilities and lodging.
  - Public Lands Campgrounds Southern & Central California – This comprehensive guide to campgrounds in national and state parks is a must for RV and camping enthusiasts. It provides details on amenities at each facility, contact information for reservations, regulations on maximum RV/trailer sizes and other vital details.

Another popular print travel planning tool is AAA TourBooks. They are a complete do-it-yourself guide for national park trip planners, listing nearby AAA Diamond-rated lodgings and restaurants, local attractions, AAA discounts, and points of interest. AAA TourBooks are a member benefit, cover every U.S. state and are available at AAA branches.

Custom travel planning
Visit any Auto Club branch and let the experts plan your trip for you, at no cost to you (excluding airline ticket processing fees for some transactions). Some of the most popular national park guided vacations available for booking at Auto Club branches include:

- National Parks of America tour offered by AAA Member Choice Vacations: This 12-day trip covers five national parks – Grand Canyon, Zion, Bryce Canyon, Yellowstone and Grand Teton — plus other famous points of interest in Arizona, Utah, Colorado, Wyoming and South Dakota.
- Western Discoverer by Trafalgar Tours – Grand Canyon and Yosemite national parks are included in this two-week tour of California, Nevada and Arizona.
- Wonders of the American West by Insight Vacations: Visit seven national parks in 10 days in Arizona, Colorado and Utah, along with trips to Las Vegas and Lake Powell.

Numerous cruise lines also offer trips highlighting the sensational views and majesty of Glacier Bay and Denali national parks in Alaska.

- The most popular self-driving vacation booked in Auto Club branches is the “Rails to the Rim” trip on Grand Canyon Railway, which whisks you on vintage train cars from accommodations in Williams, AZ to Grand Canyon Village to experience the world-famous natural phenomenon.

AAA.com and AAA Mobile app
Visit the Auto Club’s website, AAA.com/NationalParks, to research your trip with Westways magazine articles on national park adventures and a unique interactive map showing how the original routes to the Western national parks were developed in the early 1900s.

The free AAA Mobile app available for iOS and Android can be used by both members and non-members (except for member-only roadside assistance and discounts). It provides maps, turn-by-turn directions, AAA TourBook information about destinations, flight/hotel/car rental reservations, nearby current gas prices, parking lot information/prices for major cities, and nearby AAA branches, AAA discount locations, and Approved Auto Repair facilities. More information is available at AAA.com/mobile.

At Cigna and St. Joseph Hoag Health, we rolled up our sleeves and designed integrated health care benefit plans, bringing you the products Southern California employers and employees have been asking for.

A different approach to health care
We offer plans with the service you are looking for, starting with trusted names in health care. You know the service provided by Cigna. And St. Joseph Hoag Health hospitals and physicians are the ones offering trusted care to your employees and their families.

We also developed a new model for working with employers that starts with getting to know them as partners. We work with employers to deliver solutions tailored to their employees' needs. St. Joseph Hoag Health physicians and other health care experts collaborate with the Cigna team, so employers and their broker consultants can assess each business' potential for improving employee health and reducing costs. Then we design innovative health and wellness programs that help prevent serious health care issues in the future and better manage current concerns.

And we continue to add those services employers and employees really want. For example, our plans will include eVisit from St. Joseph Hoag Health, a telemedicine program that provides a virtual physician visit via computer or mobile phone at the same cost as an office visit. Information about the visit is also connected to the patient’s electronic medical record so doctors have a complete and up-to-date picture of the patient’s care.

“This is health care at the right time and the right place,” states Richard Afable, MD, president and CEO of St. Joseph Hoag Health.

According to Gene Rapisardi, president and general manager of Cigna Sales in Southern California. “We’re creating the health care ecosystem business model, centered around your employees – our customers. They want a better, more cost-effective health care experience, and we’re ready to deliver it.”

To learn more, contact Sasha Yamaguchi, vice president of Sales at Cigna, at 855.210.5765. Or visit Cigna.com/sjhh.

The St. Joseph Hoag Health network includes:
- CHOC Children’s (Orange, Mission Viejo)
- Hoag (Newport Beach, Irvine)
- Mission Hospital (Mission Viejo, Laguna Beach)
- St. Joseph Hospital (Orange)
- St. Jude Medical Center (Fullerton)

Additionally, there are eight St. Joseph Heritage Healthcare medical groups and physician networks and 20+ urgent care centers*

*Counts of facilities in the St. Joseph Hoag Health network as of 1/1/16. Subject to change.

The health care professionals and facilities that participate in the Cigna network and provide services for St. Joseph Hoag Health are independent practitioners solely responsible for the information, treatment and advice provided to their patients. They are not agents of Cigna. All health plans and health insurance policies have exclusions and limitations and may not be available in all areas. For costs and complete details of coverage, contact your Cigna representative. All Cigna products and services are provided exclusively by or through operating subsidiaries of Cigna Corporation, including Cigna HealthCare of California, Inc., Cigna Health and Life Insurance Company, Connecticut General Life Insurance Company, and Allegiance Benefit Plan Management, Inc. The Cigna name, logo, and other Cigna marks are owned by Cigna Intellectual Property, Inc.

At Vanguard University in Costa Mesa, we’ve got the perfect mix – unbeatable academic training, world-class arts and entertainment programs, a beautiful campus and a strong spiritual foundation. Our alums are executives at Disney, Nike and Buck Knives (including CEO Chuck Buck), to name just a few.

“Vanguard was an important part of helping us start Wahoo’s Fish Taco,” says Vanguard alum Ed Lee ’87, co-founder and CEO of Wahoo’s Fish Taco. “The theories and work ethic I learned in the financing and marketing courses helped us, and the professors were instrumental. Unlike at a bigger school, Vanguard gives you a one-on-one experience.”

Small class sizes and professors who care make the difference at Vanguard. We believe learning goes beyond the classroom and happens in the context of relationships with faculty and other students. Our professors serve as mentors inside and outside the classroom, giving students the knowledge they need and the wisdom to apply it in the real world.

Vanguard’s faculty is simply outstanding. Our professors advise U.S. presidents, win national theater awards, pioneer scientific research in China, perform at Carnegie Hall and the Hollywood Bowl, and much more. Seventy percent of our professors hold doctorates in their field from some of the most prestigious universities in the world. Those same professors teach every course and mentor students at Vanguard. No one gets lost in the back of a lecture hall, and at Vanguard, graduate students never teach our classes.

For 90 years, this personalized approach has yielded a distinguished list of alums – leading scientists, best-selling authors, network television producers, high-level military leaders and world-changing business leaders.

“I fell in love with Vanguard,” says Kristina Kuzmic-Crocco ’01, host of Kristina’s Fearless Kitchen on the Oprah Winfrey Network. “My time there helped me become more confident being in front of people, and I made lifelong friends.”

Larry Mantle, founder and host of AirTalk on NPR affiliate KPCC, and winner of multiple Golden Mic awards, says his experience at Vanguard shaped his life and career.

“I love Vanguard,” says Mantle. “I have such positive feelings about the university. It’s a very important part of my life. The professors had a profound impact on me. I wouldn’t be the person I am without my years at Vanguard.”

For more than 30 majors and concentrations to choose from, Vanguard University has a path for everyone. Best-selling author and brain scan pioneer Dr. Daniel Amen ’78 says his undergraduate education at Vanguard put him on course to become a leader in the medical profession.

“I really love Vanguard. My whole experience there was wonderful,” says Amen. “I had incredibly good teachers and got a terrific education.”

Two thousand miles away in Washington, D.C., Nathan Gonzales says Vanguard helped launch him into his career as a nationally-known political analyst. Gonzales is the political editor of the Rothenberg Political Report, which gives in-depth analysis of congressional, senatorial and gubernatorial races across the country. He is frequently quoted in the Wall Street Journal, New York Times, Washington Post, Los Angeles Times and USA Today, and has appeared on Fox News Channel, CNN and more.

“At Vanguard, I discovered that there is more to learning than sitting in a classroom,” says Gonzales, who discovered his passion for politics when he spent a semester as an intern at the White House press office in the West Wing.

No matter the area of study, Vanguard gives students the understanding they need to think critically, communicate clearly and interact intelligently – taking them places they never thought possible.

Visit vanguard.edu and see why at Vanguard University, we go beyond the classroom, beyond scholarship, beyond the expected. At Vanguard, your story matters.

DO YOU HAVE A BANKER OR A LENDER?
THERE IS A DIFFERENCE!
By Kittridge Chamberlain, EVP/Chief Banking Officer, Pacific Mercantile Bank.

Starting a Business in the Digital Age Is Easier Than Ever Before
In some ways, starting a business is very easy. You can form a corporation online. You can market your products and services through a multitude of digital platforms, and sell them with devices as ubiquitous as smart phones.

Sustaining and Growing a Business Is Another Story
Increasing regulation complicates the business landscape. Competition has intensified because information flows so freely, making pricing and other data far more transparent. The pace of change is so fast that strategic planning and decision-making are nearly full-time pursuits for entrepreneurs who want to grow faster than their competitors and the overall economy. And in addition to traditional forms of capital, newer methods like peer-to-peer lending and crowd funding create another decision point.

With these factors and others in play, how can an entrepreneur best position a company for success? It takes a strong team within and around your company. Your outside team should include accounting, insurance, legal, and banking professionals.

If you’re starting or running an emerging company, you might see these advisors as overhead that your business can’t afford. Here’s why they’re so important: It’s a lot easier to get into trouble than out of it. Good advice in these areas will save you time and money, as well as headaches that you don’t need as you grow your business.

Choosing the Right Banking Partner Should Be High on Your List
You need a bank that can support your company over the long term. You need a bank that understands — and likes — your market segment. You need a bank that has built a team of bankers, not lenders.

A banker is a skilled professional who will really get to know you and your company -- not just your sales and profits, but your near-term goals, long-term strategy, aspirations and what keeps you awake at night. Good bankers know that every company is unique. They want to understand what makes yours distinctive.

A banker will help you decide how to fund your company’s growth. He or she will consider your company’s financial condition, stage of development, revenue model, customer base, and other factors. Not all financing is created equal; a good banker can show you the advantages and possible disadvantages of various types of capital.

A banker understands that managing your company’s cash can be just as important as financing its growth. Good bankers will make sure that you’re using up-to-date tools for monitoring your cash, keeping it safe, and managing your receivables and payables to optimize your cash position.

Most important, a banker will build a relationship with you based on mutual trust and respect. Regardless of your company’s size, he or she will take you seriously. You’ll be a client, not just a customer, through good times and challenging times.

On the other hand, a lender will simply ask you how much you want to borrow.

A Banking Partner Cares About Your Goals, Your Strategy and Your Success
No matter what size your company is, no matter what business you’re in, you need a banking partner who cares about your goals, your strategy, and your success. It’s one of the most important choices a business owner can make.

Kittridge Chamberlain is EVP and Chief Banking Officer at Pacific Mercantile Bank. With over 30 years of experience in sales, relationship management, and risk management, she is responsible for commercial banking activities in the Bank’s seven regional offices as well as the Bank’s marketing programs. Prior to joining Pacific Mercantile Bank, Kittridge was a consultant to banks and other capital providers. Previously, she was a Senior Credit Officer and Senior Relationship Manager at Silicon Valley Bank. Kittridge also held positions at S&I Bank of California, First Interstate Bank of California, and Bank of America. Women Empowering Women

Orange County is without a doubt, one of the most beautiful places to live in the nation. It combines the coast with the mountains, nature with culture and great resources with leisure, all with a sunny year-round Mediterranean climate. Feeling blessed to live in this great county comes natural.

While numerous Orange County residents thrive, far too many struggle to get by. In fact, one in four of our neighbors live in poverty and more than 32,000 of our children are homeless or housing insecure. Enter: Orange County United Way, an organization with a unique ability to bring passionate influencers in the community together to support positive change. This passion can be witnessed through one of the most successful philanthropic networks of its kind—United Way’s Women United.

Members of Women United invest $1,000 or more annually while a subset of the network, called the Women’s Philanthropy Fund, invest $10,000 or more annually. Far from just fundraisers, this network of 400 strong members serves as a change agent in the community helping local women and children gain self-sufficiency while contributing toward a stronger Orange County.

The success behind Women United lies in the passion of its members. Each year, Women United and Women’s Philanthropy Fund continue to energize and inspire women to make a difference by taking on a leadership role in advancing its programs and initiatives.

Women’s Philanthropy Fund members, in particular, are targeting their support to programs that align with United Way’s priorities, and infuse hundreds of thousands of dollars into the community on an annual basis. Through awareness, collaboration, education and advocacy, these leaders are breaking barriers and helping build brighter futures for local families.

Making Connections that Count
“As a working mother of four, helping women and children in our community achieve their greatest potential truly speaks to my heart,” said member Rochelle Karr, Director of Corporate Social Responsibility and Alumni Relations at O’Melveny & Myers LLP. “Touching just one life for the better and sparkling a compassionate and giving spirit in the lives of our children and those around us – at the end of the day, that’s what inspires me.

Karr, alongside fellow members of Women United, is dedicated to helping build economically self-sufficient lives for women and their children. But what these women give via their time, money and talents they get back tenfold. “Women United not only allows me to give back to local children and families, but also provides me with the opportunity to network with strong like-minded women and grow as a leader both professionally and personally,” said Shirin Forootan, an employment defense attorney with Call & Jensen.

The Ultimate Power Breakfast
One such occasion where these like-minded women come together is at their largest annual event. Now in its 13th year, the Women’s Philanthropy Fund Breakfast, Orange County’s premier fundraising event serves as a forum for nearly 700 people to discuss the county’s most pressing issues facing families in need and the initiatives that can best serve them. Each year, members select non-profit organization partners to provide education and financial empowerment programs that address key issues facing families. By supporting the breakfast, attendees help transform lives today and the future of Orange County’s next generation. Proceeds from this signature breakfast event are coupled with members’ personal investments.

Keynote speaker Ramaa Mosley, a filmmaker and vocal advocate for girls’ and women’s rights around the world, is thrilled to be a part of this year’s fundraising event. “It’s a true honor to be surrounded by such powerful giving women who are united together to make a profound difference in peoples’ lives.” Mosley will share her personal journey of empowering women through film and explore how we can each harness the power of caring globally while taking action locally.

Since 2004, the Women’s Philanthropy Fund has raised more than $4.5 million for local programs and services that empower women and their families. Monica Timpe and Rochelle Karr, who chaired the 2015 breakfast fundraiser, will again chair the 2016 event on April 27, 2016 at the Hotel Irvine.

Women United members transform their talent, intellect and dollars on behalf of others to create a multiplier effect. These female powerhouses are sparking change in the community through collaboration in order to improve conditions for local children and families. Because when women empower women, that is where the magic happens and lives are truly changed.

The Women’s Philanthropy Fund Breakfast is on Wednesday, April 27 from 7:30-9:30 a.m. at Hotel Irvine (17900 Jamboree Blvd, Irvine, CA 92614).

To become part of the Women’s Philanthropy Fund or Women United, please contact Meghan Vu at 949.263.6163 or meghanv@unitedwayoc.org.

Anne Alberite, Director of Research & Development
Del Taco Restaurants Inc., Lake Forest
Pouring her passion for food and hospitality, Alberite has made an indelible mark over the course of her career in the field of research and development (R&D). Today, Alberite leads the evolution behind the menu of Del Taco, one of Orange County’s most iconic brands. With more than 25 years of experience in product and culinary development, Alberite’s portfolio ranges from product development of partner of Nike to menu ideation for familiar restaurant brands such as Taco Bell, Pick Up Stix and IHOP. Attracted to Del Taco for its fresh prep approach to operations not typical of quick service restaurants, Alberite joined the team in 2014 with the responsibility of reinventing the menu and making the brand’s “UnFreshing Believable” promise come to life through food. Since then, she has improved the restaurant’s menu and ingredient list and added fresh ingredients that create symbiosis between operations, marketing and R&D initiatives, and innovated several of Del Taco’s top performing new menu items.

Gina Alshuler, President & CEO
Rauxa, Costa Mesa
Gina Alshuler and Rauxa have come a long way together. What began as a small direct-mail house in Seal Beach in 1999 is now a fast-growing, full-service marketing agency with 200 employees coast to coast and an impressive roster of Fortune 500 clients. And Alshuler, a receptionist when she joined the company 13 years ago, is now president. With a passionate, energetic and infectious personality that defines the company, Alshuler has led Rauxa’s expansion—opening offices in New York, San Francisco, Chicago and Atlanta—and evolution, overseeing the acquisition of digital firm ThoughtMatrix while making major inroads into all things digital and technology. Her commitment and ability to attract and empower the industry’s strongest talent has helped the agency to forge an average year-over-year growth rate of 23%. During her tenure, Rauxa has been consistently ranked as one of the top women-owned businesses in Orange County.

Jennifer Anaya, Vice President, Marketing
Ingram Micro Inc., Irvine
Jennifer Anaya is responsible for the leadership and direction of all marketing activities across the U.S. for Ingram Micro, the world’s largest technology distributor. With nearly two decades of marketing experience, Anaya is regarded as one of the nation’s Most Powerful Women in the IT Channel by CRN Magazine. Her career accomplishments include the leadership and development of Ingram Micro’s award-winning marketing and events agency, fostering a global marketing community of country and business unit-specific marketing leads, and the ongoing guidance of the company’s brand and value proposition. Anaya departed Ingram Micro in 2009 to take on an entrepreneurial role as an independent channel communications strategist under the brand ID8 Marketing, where she assisted Ingram Micro in a number of strategic projects. From there, she went on to serve as vice president of marketing for NetEnrich, a Silicon Valley-based provider of remote IT operations and cloud services. In 2012, Anaya rejoined Ingram Micro as vice president of marketing for North America.

Kay Anderle, Managing Partner
Keller/Anдерле LLP, Irvine
As managing partner of Keller/Anдерле LLP, Kay Anderle has led the firm to accomplishments well beyond its size. Keller/Anдерле is a 100% woman-owned, thirteen lawyer bet-the-company business litigation law firm in Irvine. In the last seven years, Keller/Anдерле has won cases and settlements in excess of $85 million and has successfully defended national and multi-national corporations. For its efforts, the firm has been recognized as one of California’s best boutique law firms. Anдерле’s awards and honors are both national and statewide in scope, including: Litigation Counsel of America, Trial Lawyers in America, Southern California Superlawyer, and California Lawyer Magazine “Lawyer of the Year.”

Paula Ansara-Wilhelm, Co-Founder & Chief Marketing Officer
Surterre Properties/Bash Magazine, Newport Beach
Many describe Paula Ansara-Wilhelm as “a serial entrepreneur,” able to identify emerging business trends and to lead solutions for industry challenges. Ansara-Wilhelm created a “virtual ad agency” to service businesses that couldn’t afford the traditional model—which allowed her the freedom and flexibility to raise her son. She co-founded Surterre Properties in 2006, the leading luxury real estate firm headquartered in Newport Beach with offices in Laguna Beach, Corona del Mar, Monarch Beach, San Clemente and Irvine. Ansara-Wilhelm has developed and managed the company’s branding initiatives and works closely with Surterre’s top agents throughout the competitive Orange County luxury marketplace. Under her leadership, Surterre Properties has grown to more than 400 agents and $10 billion in sales in one of the most challenging real estate markets in history. In 2010, she also launched and has led the creative vision for Bash Magazine, a luxury lifestyle publication.

Dawn Antis, Founder & Owner
Mom & Tot OC Inc., Irvine
Dawn Antis launched Mom & Tot OC out of necessity. After joining a mommy and me group with her twins in 2014, she realized there were no options for toddlers in Orange County. There are a handful of mommy and me groups for newborns in Orange County, but Mom & Tot OC is the first and only group to offer classes for moms with toddlers. Realizing its doors in February 2015, the classes have doubled in size. Mom & Tot OC is recognized by OC Family and the Orange County Register as a Locals’ Choice that helps parents forge an after home for a safe and relaxed environment. Each week, a local expert is brought in to educate the moms on CPR, car seat safety, toddler swimming, nutrition, holistic health, sleep, marriage, family, friendships, photography, music, literature, local parks and more. There are also crafts and sing-a-long songs for the toddlers. Antis arranges plays at local parks and zoos, and mom’s night out events for current and past members once a month.

Patty Arvielo, President
New American Funding, Tustin
In 2003, Patty Arvielo and her husband Rick launched New American Funding as a 40-employee, franchise call center. Starting the business from scratch and supplier relations, Arvielo ideated New American Funding company that would operate as a proficient call center focused on good pricing, fast home loan closes and excellent customer service came to fruition. By 2008, New American Funding had grown by more than 300%. In these past 13 years, Arvielo has worked tirelessly to transform the mortgage banker into a national mortgage lender and servicer that funds more than $900 million in home loans each month. Under her guidance, the company has brought the entire loan process in-house—origination, processing, underwriting, funding and servicing. She continues to actively contribute to the bottom line, originating and booking nearly $3 million in home loans each month on her own, all while managing operations and sales for New American Funding’s headquarters, 100+ branches and 2,000+ employees.

Geeta Bansal, Owner
Clay Oven, Irvine
With husband and family in tow, Geeta Bansal regularly travels the globe meeting with world-famous chefs to learn the secret of the trade. Her entry into the restaurant business occurred while she was attending Rutgers and met her future husband, who had been working in food and hospitality. The couple met and fell in love when he was a college professor and urban planner into a contemporary Indian chef. This decision came at a steep price, for in India, preparing food is a job performed by servants, not someone whokowski from a respected family of exalted stature. Her father issued her an ultimatum: give up her new-found profession or be ostracized from her family. She chose to follow her dream and has not been in touch with her family since. The cuisine at the Clay Oven is all about transforming tradition and old techniques while retaining the flavor profile to make them relevant to the present times and lifestyle.
We are a bold, global pharmaceutical company and a leader in a new industry model – Growth Pharma. Our world-class team develops, manufactures and commercializes innovative branded pharmaceuticals and biologic products for patients around the world.

We are one team of dedicated employees, carving new paths, taking bold, decisive actions to deliver results and better outcomes for patients and providers.

Suhein Beck, Founder
ELAJ LLC, Laguna Hills

Suhein Beck inherited an all-natural medicinal formula from her grandfather – who was a surgeon – to treat skin conditions such as eczema, psoriasis and wounds. Upon the real estate market crashing in 2007, she hung up her RE Brokers and Appraisal License and gathered the courage to finally launch her family’s original formula at the Orange County Marketplace in Costa Mesa. Within six years, Beck built such a loyal following of customers from Orange County to Palm Springs that she was able to obtain a licensing deal for mass distribution. As of January 2016, ELAJ debuted in every Bed, Bath & Beyond store, as well as Walmart stores and many medical supply stores and cardiology centers. She is currently looking to expand even further, working with Mexico, Canada, and Dubai for Mideast export.

Ruth Bedi, Co-Owner
Prego Ristorante, Irvine

Ruth Bedi, along with her husband, Tony, took ownership of Irvine’s Prego Ristorante in an effort to return the restaurant to its original status as a top restaurant in Orange County. After taking ownership, she remodeled and refurbished the entire space, from replacing the floors and changing the upholstery, to adding a sports bar and new restrooms. Bedi graduated from Colorado State University (CSU) and completed a graduate program at the University of San Diego. While attending CSU, she attended La Varenne – the famed cooking school in Paris, France during a semester abroad. While at La Varenne, she had the opportunity to learn cooking techniques and have lunch with Julia Child. Bedi’s goal is to make Prego among the finest Italian restaurants in Orange County, with an elegant, yet comfortable atmosphere, attentive service and cuisine that strikes the perfect balance between traditional authenticity and innovative preparations.

Pazit Ben-Elzri, Founder & CEO
LuluBoo LLC, Lake Forest

Pazit Ben-Elzri is an Israeli-born, momma- visionary whose story embodies everything that is the “American Dream.” Shortly after settling down in Orange County in 2005, Ben-Elzri gave birth to her second child, Ronnie, and she realized the only place he slept was in the comfort of his own crib. After struggling to find an answer to Ronnie’s sleeping issues, Ben-Elzri rolled up her sleeves and created a solution of her own. The final product was her Luluboo baby lounge, a versatile, portable solution that mimics the comfort and feeling of the womb for baby, while seamlessly and in one-click, transforms into a backpack for parents on the go. Luluboo’s whimsical charm and uniquely convenient features soon captured the hearts of fashionably active mommies and some of the biggest retailers in the country, such as Babies R US, Amazon, FAO Schwarz, Wal-Mart, Sears, Target and many more.

Jody Chapman, Real Estate Agent
Surterre Properties, Newport Beach

Jody Chapman’s sales have ranked her in the top 1% of all Orange County REALTORS® for the past five years in a row. This is even more impressive since she only began her career in real estate in 2002, serving areas with a notably high income per capita, such as Newport Beach and Corona del Mar. She has been able to achieve this phenomenal success through a combination of utilizing her entrepreneurial background and building a huge referral base. Chapman previously co-founded an international apparel manufacturing company with her husband, and spent five years selling her products on the QVC network. She has been able to leverage the skills she learned during that time to become one of the top ranking REALTORS® in Orange County.

Hyun-Sook “Juliette” Chung, Owner
Juliette Kitchen and Bar, Newport Beach

Juliette Chung is a restaurant industry veteran. Chung, along with her husband, owned and operated the Filling Station in Old Towne Orange for 12 years. The sought-after pastries and pies were made by Chung herself, as she doubled as the restaurant’s pastry chef. When the restaurant was sold, she decided to open Juliette Kitchen and Bar in Newport Beach opened in 2012. The casual-fine dining restaurant serves modern European small plates with Asian influences. Farm-to-table cuisine is reflected in the rustic, yet elegant décor. From the crystal chandeliers, industrial wall lamps, vintage artwork and bar top made from recycled wine barrels, Chung designed the restaurant from top to bottom. In 2015 and 2016, renowned food and travel journalist Brad A. Johnson, named Juliette Kitchen and Bar as one of the 75 Best Places to EAT in Orange County.

Cindy Galardi Culpepper, CEO & Chairperson
Galardi Group Inc., Irvine

Cindy Galardi Culpepper began her role as chairperson and CEO of Galardi Group Inc. (GGI) in 2013, upon the passing of company founder John Galardi. Culpepper’s relationship with the family began in 1980 when she married John Galardi and spent nearly three decades living very closely to the brands that he developed. During this time, Culpepper, who was a silent partner in the company until Galardi’s passing, had the unique opportunity to learn from and experience Galardi’s passions, challenges and triumphs firsthand. Early on, it had been decided that Culpepper would carry on the family legacy and lead the company in the event of Galardi’s passing. Galardi chose Culpepper as his successor of the 54-year-old company because he was confident in her ability as a leader, admired her hard-work ethic and dedication, and trusted that she would uphold the brand’s core values.

At 32 years old, Daher purchased Morgan Marketing effective January 2016, and rebranded as Powerhouse Public Relations LLC. Powerhouse Public Relations, a creative agency providing a wide range of media relations, communications strategy and social media services, has opened its doors in Santa Ana. With a specialized focus in franchised restaurant public relations, Powerhouse PR’s current client roster includes Del Taco, Wienerschnitzel, Pieology Pizzeria, Juice It Up!, Lugano Diamonds, Philly’s Best Cheesesteaks and Hawaiian Host. Within only three months of opening, Powerhouse has already taken on two new clients, including Boudin Bakery.

Ladan Davia, President
Excelerate Test Prep, Newport Beach

Excelerate Test Prep is the only SAT/ACT software on the market that targets the specific concepts being tested by every question answered incorrectly on a practice exam. Factoring in fatigue and other variables that could interfere with each student’s performance, this technique helps students achieve their ideal scores after completing just three tests—at no cost to the students. In contrast, most modern, high-quality test prep courses cost an average of $2,400 and take six weeks to complete. By making elite test preparation a feasible option for all students, Excelerate Test Prep is aiming to revolutionize the American education system. Since winning the Business Plan Competition at Chapman University, Excelerate has provided its software to school districts in Oakland, Los Angeles and Berkeley as a supplement to their college preparation programs. In the past two years, these schools have reported that their students have improved their overall scores by an average of 300 points after completing just three tests—at no cost to the students.

Laura Davick, Founder & Interim President
Crystal Cove Alliance, Newport Coast

When Laura Davick discovered that a luxury resort was planning to take over Crystal Cove in 1999, she spearheaded a campaign to protect the area and founded the Crystal Cove Alliance (CCA). The rest is history: CCA has become one of the top public-private partnership models within the California State Parks system, and the citizens of Orange County, and beyond, are benefiting from her vision and passion. Davick served as president of the organization during its early growth, stayed onboard as director of external affairs, and in 2015, as interim president, continues to steer the group. CCA’s work has included renovation of 29 historic oceanfront rental cottages and tremendous growth of environmental education programs for the community. Whatever her official title is, Davick continues to further the organization’s mission of education, conservation and restoration. Currently the organization’s goal is fundraising and the renovation of the final 17 cottages for the community to enjoy.

Roxana Davidoff, CEO
Big Purple Dot, Irvine

Big Purple Dot is an affordable customer relations management system. The company offers lender and real estate agent collaboration on its cutting-edge technology platform. Christa Duggan, Owner & CEO
Portola Coffee Lab, Costa Mesa
Christa Duggan, along with her husband Jeff, own the award-winning Portola Coffee Lab. Portola was co-founded in 2011 with the goal to create a quality-centric coffeehouse that re-focused on the most important ingredient—coffee. Within a year of bringing a never-before-seen concept and style of coffee to Orange County, Portola Coffee Lab began creating a distinct brand that revolves around producing an artisanal culinary product, Craft Coffee. Portola Coffee Lab prides itself on having access to some of the highest-quality coffee beans in the world. While it usually takes a coffee company several years to establish direct trade relationships to start sourcing coffee at origin, Portola was able to do it within ten years. By 2016, Jeff and Christa Duggan will own and operate six locations within Orange County. Their focus will remain on empowering the community with quality, traceable, fresh-roasted and fresh-brewed coffee, presented in an artful context—one cup at a time.

Laurie Eastman, Real Estate Agent
Surfside Properties, Newport Beach
Laurie Eastman has quickly become one of Newport Beach’s most trusted real estate professionals. After teaching for several years, Eastman decided to make a career switch to real estate.
She began her career with little experience and no contacts in the

Mary Watson Fisher, Co-Managing Partner
Walsworth (WFBM LLP), Orange

Mary Watson Fisher joined Walsworth in 1992 in its Orange, California headquarters and became co-managing partner of the firm in 2004. Since assuming that position, Fisher has been instrumental in leading the growth of the firm and shaping its future in a way that is unique to law firms and underscores the firm’s longstanding commitment to diversity. Walsworth was recently recognized as a certified Women’s Business Enterprise (WBE) by the Women’s Business Enterprise National Council (WBENC) and by the California Public Utilities Commission. The national standard for certification is a meticulous process, which includes an in-depth analysis of the business structure and management, designed to confirm the business is at least 51% owned, operated and controlled by women. Walsworth is proud to be the largest certified WBE law firm in the United States.

Shannon Eusey, President & Founder
Beacon Pointe Wealth Advisors, Newport Beach

Starting on the ground floor in the financial services industry, Shannon Eusey’s hard work, persistence and emphasis on putting her clients first catapulted her through the ranks in a heavily male-dominated industry. Eusey pictured a firm with a clear objective, prompting her to found Beacon Pointe Advisors. 14 years, six affiliate offices, 90+ employees, 70+ institutions, thousands of high-net-worth families and more than $8 billion in assets later; Beacon Pointe is consistently ranked as one of the largest independent advisory firms in the nation. Under Eusey’s guidance, Beacon Pointe Advisors is now more than 65% female, with women holding senior or executive positions in every department of the firm. Eusey is also currently the top-ranked female advisor in the country according to Barron’s “Top 100 Independent Wealth Advisors” List for 2015.

Kelsey Flewellen, Metro Market Manager
Robert Half, Irvine

Kelsey Flewellen is the metro market manager for Robert Half, the world’s first and largest specialized staffing firm. In her role, she manages operations for the Robert Half Technology and The Creative Group divisions, specializing in placing technology and creative talent throughout the Orange County region. Flewellen joined Robert Half in 2013, and has since held roles of increasing responsibility in the company. After joining the company, Flewellen saw the incredible opportunity to grow the global, respected brand throughout Orange County. She began with a small, but dedicated team which she soon developed into a team of exceptional individuals tripling in size. Flewellen and her teams placed more than 1,600 individuals in jobs last year alone. Flewellen is committed in helping businesses thrive by building lasting partnerships and leaving a mark as a true leader throughout the Orange County landscape.

Eulyynn Gargano, Head of Test Prep and Tutoring
FutureWise Consulting, Irvine
Eulyynn Gargano has built the test prep and tutoring branch of FutureWise Consulting from the ground up, including research and development, marketing and execution of the business plan. She has not only seen incredible success with her students, she has also eased the college application process for so many clients. Gargano understands the importance of college readiness as a lifestyle and is firmly committed to treating the test preparation process as a partnership among the student, parent, tutor and college counselor—all working toward the same goals of empowerment and success. Gargano began her tutoring career in 2006 and is now gaining students from all over the United States, allowing them to bring their scores to the next level. FutureWise Consulting is Orange County’s premier source for college counseling, test prep and tutoring services.

Loreen Gilbert, President
WealthWise Financial Services, Irvine
Loreen Gilbert is the founder and president of WealthWise Financial Services. She has a passion for helping people to be financially independent, which stems from her own experience growing up. She was 13 when her parents divorced and her mother, who had been a stay-at-home mom, had to rejoin the workforce. Gilbert’s family had a very tough time making ends meet and she vividly remembers one Thanksgiving when her family could not afford a Thanksgiving meal. That period of time instilled in her the desire to be financially independent, as well as to help others towards self-sufficiency. Gilbert found her own practice in 1997 after being told there was no opportunity for advancement in the financial services firm in which she was working. She incorporated WealthWise Financial Services in 2005 then she started clearing securities through LPL Financial. Since then, she has focused her practice on helping key executives and business owners achieve their financial goals.

Cindy Goss, President
 Propel Business Solutions Inc., Mission Viejo
Cindy Goss is president of Propel Business Solutions Inc., a full-service branding and marketing firm she founded in 2008. After a successful, executive-level career in the technology, staffing and nonprofit sectors, Goss’s vision was to form an innovative marketing firm, with an emphasis on new business development. In just over seven years, the firm now operates throughout California and specializes in corporate branding and messaging, digital marketing, website strategy/design, social media, videography and product launches for both for-profit and nonprofit organizations. Under her leadership, the firm has consistently achieved year-over-year growth, and most notably, during one of our nation’s most challenging economic decades. Propel Business Solutions “distills the essence” of a company, creatively conveys their unique competitive advantages and value, and consistently drives new business opportunity.

Michelle Greenwood, Director of Investment Programs
Slowmoneysoocal.org, Dana Point
Michelle Greenwood is a financial services professional who holds leadership roles in the local economy movement. Her 20+ year career has spanned both sides of the balance sheet, giving her a cross-disciplinary vantage point. In 2010, Greenwood read Tasch’s Inquiries into the Nature of Slow Money and was deeply struck by its vision. Slow Money SoCal is a nonprofit network that connects farmers, entrepreneurs, investors, thought-leaders and everyday people interested in developing alternatives that help strengthen and diversify our local food system. Towards the end of 2012, disappointed with the response of stakeholders to a cause marketing campaign she had created for the OC Food Bank-related charity, Construction, Greenwood focused on curating a deeper personal theme and mission for her business-related charitable work. She chose to concentrate on food and food insecurity. Today, working at the intersection of food and finance, Greenwood is proud to serve Slow Money SoCal as director of investment programs.

Huma Gruaz, Founder, President & CEO
Alpaytac Public Relations, Irvine
Huma Gruaz founded Alpaytac PR in 2004 with the cards seemingly stacked against her as a single mother, new to the country. Since then, Gruaz has expanded the agency to multiple office locations across the country in Orange County, Chicago, New York and Washington, D.C. Alpaytac PR is a full-service integrated marketing, public relations, communications and digital agency providing strategic results with a wide range of global clients from houseware, technology, fitness and beyond. As a resident of Irvine, Gruaz has a passion for the Orange County area and helping businesses develop with Alpaytac’s PR and digital support. Through her leadership, Alpaytac was instrumental in moving Bellator, a major multi-million dollar business purchased by Viacom, to the OC area. The company also recently added Lindora to their client roster, handling Lindora’s PR and social media initiatives to bring enhanced awareness to the clinics not only in the California market, but also across the nation.

2016 Women in Business Nominees

Providing 100% on-time delivery and 99.85% (five-year average) quality ratings, Vollman-Offa has leveraged Markall’s Best in Class and Supplier Self-Release status to increase volume sales and build on new global business opportunities. Through her cohesive vision, she has transformed the manufacturing solution for the company’s most difficult machining and assembly challenges, Markall has expanded its global presence in Norway, Brazil, Germany and Singapore.

Shirin Forootan, Attorney
Call & Jensen, Newport Beach
For several years, Shirin Forootan has defended companies in employment litigation. Her dedicated commitment to her clients has yielded excellent results both inside and outside of court. She has had class action dismissed, lawsuits filed by individual employees dismissed and class certification denied. Outside of court, she has negotiated favorable settlements for employers and has convinced the Labor Commissioner to dismiss wage claims. Because she has demonstrated excellence in the practice of law, Forootan has been selected to Super Lawyers’ 2015 and 2016 “Southern California Rising Stars.” Wherever possible, Forootan has incorporated values such as just 2.5% of attorneys in California. She currently serves as co-chair of Orange County United Way’s “Women United” leadership group. She recently served as co-chair of both the San Diego Regional and Orange County Community Foundation Committees. She practices law at Call & Jensen in Newport Beach.

Jennifer Friend, CEO
Project Hope Alliance, Costa Mesa
Project Hope Alliance (PHA), a Costa Mesa-based nonprofit organization, is committed to ending the cycle of homelessness, one child at a time. Jennifer Friend first joined PHA as the president and secretary of its board of directors, while she continued her successful career as a partner at a large law firm. For this reason, she founded a former Orange County “motel kid” and extraordinary passion for helping families experiencing these same hardships motivated her to turn her avocation into her vocation. Under Friend’s fearless leadership, PHA has grown 278% in five years and children and parents out of homelessness since 2012. The breakdown is as follows: 391 children, 347 adults, 157 families. In 2015 alone, PHA ended homelessness for 120 kids and guardians—63 of which were children. PHA also lowered in cost per child to end homelessness, which will allow the organization to uplift and empower more families in need going forward.

Peggy Fu, Founder
Focus Business Law Group, Irvine
Peggy Fu is a corporate attorney who focuses on advising middle-market companies in mergers and acquisitions and corporate financing transactions. Fu has successfully negotiated and closed a multitude of transactions ranging from $1 million to $500 million in a variety of industries. In addition, Fu acts as outside general counsel to growing businesses. She works closely with owners, investors and the management team to proactively address critical legal and business issues. Fu is honored to be considered by the many satisfied clients of the firm as a valued partner to their businesses. Formerly a senior associate with a leading multinational law firm and a certified public accountant (CPA) with Ernst & Young, Fu founded Focus Business Law Group to provide results-oriented, value-added and client-focused legal service to each client. Fu has also served on the board of the National Association of Women Business Owners-Orange County (NAWBO-OC) for the last six years.

Carla L. Furuno, SVP & Manager of Private Client Services
Orange County City National Bank, Irvine
Carla Furuno oversees City National’s Private Client Services in the San Diego and Orange County region, leading a team of highly skilled professionals who provide holistic wealth management and banking solutions to high-net-worth individuals and their families, professional firms, real estate investors and nonprofit organizations. Carla has more than 30 years of experience in the financial services industry. Prior to joining City National in 2000, she spent 20 years with Union Bank of California in San Francisco as a private banking relationship manager and a commercial loan officer. She earned a master’s degree in business administration from Pepperdine University. Furuno holds a Certified Investment Management Analyst designation and certificates in Personal Financial Planning and Advanced Portfolio Management. She is an advisory board member with the University of California Irvine’s Center for Investment and Wealth Management. She is also a member of the Investment Management Consultants Association, as well as the Financial Planning Association of Orange County.

Donna Gallup, President & CEO
American Family Housing, Midway City
Donna Gallup, president and CEO of American Family Housing (AFH), has a relatively obscure childhood—the shadows and into the spotlight in a short time. Since her appointment to her position in 2014, Gallup has significantly increased in just 18 months both the number and size of AFH. She has over 10 million in assets and the reputation of leadership included in Southern California—chronic homelessness—and has made it her mission to elevate AFH on a national scale. Her efforts have paid off in increasing media attention, unique features and coverage of AFH’s special events and projects. Always seeking likeminded partners and forging new private, public and governmental

Kristin Halton, Broker Associate
Teles Properties, Newport Beach

Kristin Halton is the top 1% of agents nationwide and a top producer at Teles Properties, focusing on luxury, high-end real estate for sale in Newport Beach. In 2015, The Halton Group closed $63 million in volume. Halton truly sets herself apart from the competition. She came to California not knowing anyone, and grew her business from hard work and consistency. She has taught tens of thousands through live events, podcasts and webinars. Presently, she is working on her first book to be released in 2016. She is recognized as an expert in her field and has been nominated to the board of directors for the Retirement Industry Trust Association.

Rebecca Hall, CEO
Ideas Hall, Costa Mesa

Rebecca Hall has made being ahead of time a driving career principle. Beginning in 2003, when she founded Ideas Hall – one of the first of its kind hybrid PR/marketing firms – in the opening days of the digital revolution. Today, she remains one of the first and only female heads of an agency and one of the most successful female marketing and PR entrepreneur in Orange County. Being three steps ahead of her industry, her category and the demographics of the boardroom have earned her unprecedented success. Today, Ideas Hall is one of the fastest-growing and most sought-after integrated creative firms in Orange County, ranked No. 2 by the Orange County Business Journals “Best PR Firms” List in 2015. Now in its 13th year, Ideas Hall partners with some of the county’s most highly respected brands and institutions, including The Irvine Co., Bixby Land Co., StorQuest Self Storage, Chapman University, Sunwest Bank, CU Direct, Cox, Castle & Nicholson, and Buchanan Street Partners.

Carol Halesworth, Advertising Account Executive
Stampington & Co. Publishing, Laguna Hills

Carol Halesworth returned to her advertising roots two years ago, selling advertising for Stampington & Co. in 30+ crafting and hobby enthusiast niche publications. Stampington & Co. publishes 30+ luxury artful living, mixed-media and craft magazines made to inspire creativity in every facet of life. She continues her 13-year relationship that first began when she made her sales over and above target numbers. She leads the advertising department in the new applications online and web platforms, along with print placements. A five-year cancer survivor, Carol Halesworth raised her son by herself and is proud of his amazing accomplishments as a corporate executive. Juggling the continuous deadlines and multiple publications has proven to be a challenge that Halesworth relishes every day.

Kaaren Hall, CEO & President
uDirect IRA Services, Irvine

After 20+ years of experience at Bank of America, Indymac Bank and her own mortgage brokerage experience, Kaaren Hall saw the recession take hold and the mortgage market collapse. Rather than folding up her tent, Hall took her real estate and finance knowledge in a promising new direction – self-directed IRAs. Hall has helped thousands of Americans invest their IRA into real estate, notes and other assets outside of the stock market to improve their financial future. Now, Hall is a passionate educator and facilitator for better retirement through highly diversified and individually controlled IRAs. She has taught tens of thousands through live events, podcasts and webinars. Presently, she is working on her first book to be released in 2016. She is recognized as an expert in her field and has been nominated to the board of directors for the Retirement Industry Trust Association.

Mona Z. Hanna, Office Managing Partner
Michelman & Robinson LLP, Irvine

Since joining law firm Michelman & Robinson LLP (M&R) in September 2000, Mona Hanna has quickly risen to hold leadership positions in both firm and practice management, including Orange County office managing partner; chair of the firm-wide litigation department; member of the executive committee; recruiting committee; and diversity, multiculturalism and inclusion committee. The first female partner at M&R, Hanna founded Women Attorneys of Michelman & Robinson (WAMR), an internal forum committed to the advancement, empowerment and support of women in the legal profession. Hanna’s highly regarded reputation as a tenacious and versatile litigator contributed greatly to M&R’s top tier ranking as a “Best Law Firm in America for Commercial Litigation” in 2016 by US News & World Report/Best Lawyers. Clearly, Hanna stands as a recognized leader in the firm, a respected leader in her profession and a role model for women everywhere.
Heidi Hendy, Founding Principal
H. Hendy Associates, Newport Beach

Heidi Hendy launched H. Hendy Associates, an interior architectural firm, in 1979. With 37 years of experience in Orange County and a passion for meeting business objectives, Hendy is a leader in interior architecture and planning, delivering exceptional results and setting an industry standard for design and planning that drives business success. H. Hendy Associates’ roster of recently designed Orange County workplaces includes: Mark IV, Yokohama Tire Corp., Kawasaki, Okada&GE. In a county that the country looks to for leadership in commercial real estate, Hendy continues to keep clients ahead of the curve when it comes to constructive innovations in workplace design. Hendy is passionate about mentoring up-and-coming leaders at H. Hendy Associates, sharing how actions turn into results to empower entrepreneurial spirit in each employee. Continuing to grow, H. Hendy Associates reported a 23% growth in 2015.

Susan Hensley, Senior Partner & National Studio Principal of FM Strategies
Little, Newport Beach

Over the past 31 years, Susan Hensley has influenced Little’s traditional architectural practice to adopt service models that reach beyond the profession’s conventional realms of design to include data-driven occupancy planning solutions. With Hensley’s insight, Little developed a technology service offering, FacilitiesManager.com, years before the advent of Internet Space Management (ISM). This early awareness of the future of corporate real estate executive and facility managers beyond the project process – from conception to ongoing management. With the goal to grow and diversify the Orange County office, Hensley conceptualized a Workplace Interior Studio in 18 months and notably won the IIDA-OC Haute Couture Fashion Show charitable event two consecutive years.

Samantha Hoffman, Office Managing Principal
Jackson Lewis P.C., Newport Beach

In 2012, at the age of 37, Samantha Hoffman became the youngest managing partner in all of Jackson Lewis’s 55 locations. Since she assumed that role, her office has grown in attorney headcount by more than 50%, attracting lateral candidates from competitors. Hoffman has had a steady rise at Jackson Lewis – she started in 2004 as an associate, made partner the first year she was eligible in 2009, and then became managing partner of the Orange County office where she had been practicing for 12 years and a partner for three. Throughout her legal career, she has amassed a very impressive client roster. Significantly, she has directly originated and is responsible for managing Jackson Lewis’ relationships with several important clients including BDS Marketing, Corvel Corp. and St. John Knits. She was also elected to the law firm’s board of directors in 2015. She is the youngest member of the firm’s board of directors.

Susie Hopson-Blum, Owner, Founder & Director of Admissions
New Method Wellness, San Juan Capistrano

Susie Hopson-Blum is an owner and founder of New Method Wellness, a treatment center that focuses on doing business with technology companies in the Silicon Valley. After four years of being a very successful producer, she was promoted to the credit manager of her office, which was over $1.2 billion in commitments. Juarez’s hard work resulted in her promotion to senior vice president and lined her up to run her own office in the near future. In 2010, Juarez was asked to run a new Commercial Banking office in Anaheim. She has staffed and grown that office at unseem rates in the industry. Juarez also promotes and celebrates diversity in her workplace by ensuring her entire environment is inclusive and welcoming of the many contributions of each member of her team.

Pamela Jung, CEO & Founder
Workforce Solutions Group, FootHill Ranch

Pamela Jung, and a partner, created Workforce Solutions Group in 2001 with a primary focus on direct hire placement across all business sectors. A few years later, in response to the high demand for healthcare employees, she created HealthCare as a separate brand dedicated to the healthcare market. HCT operates as its own entity under the WSG group of companies. The years 2001 to 2007 saw tremendous growth for the organizations with an all-time revenue high of $3.5 million. Then, the economy took a downturn. Jung cut operating expenses, re-organized loans with banks, and was forced to survive on a cash-only basis as all credit lines and credit cards were cut or frozen. In order to turn around the company. Jung decided to focus primarily in the health care market as he felt it was recession proof. The company has now grown to more than $30 million with 60+ employees and offices in OC, LA and Northern California.

Manna Kadar, CEO

Manna Kadar Cosmetics, Irvine

Manna Kadar is truly a story of beating the odds. Having been raised in a community where drive-by shootings and home-invasion were common, the prospects of a college education and success were remote. Kadar rose above her circumstances and began her entrepreneurial career by opening her first cosmetic store in the Brea Mall. Over the next six years, Kadar expanded this to a chain of seven stores in two states, while going to USC full-time. Kadar ultimately sold the chain in 2002. Her passion for the beauty industry did not wane, and Kadar later opened a chain of salon and spas, which she still owns today. In 2011, Kadar pursued her ultimate dream of starting her own cosmetics line, Manna Kadar Cosmetics (MKC). In just two short years, MKC has been featured on Good Morning America, The Ellen Show and The Talk, as well as headlined in Fashion Weeks across the country.

BNY Mellon Wealth Management, Newport Beach

Shannon Kennedy was named president of BNY Mellon Southern California in June 2013. In the role as president, Kennedy oversees $3 billion in assets under management and oversees 41 staff supporting clients with diverse needs and goals. Kennedy has grown brand awareness by promoting her staff and herself in community involvement. She has nominated her portfolio managers for local not-for-profit investment committees, supports the involvement of her staff on community and professional boards including South Coast Repertory, Girl Scouts of Orange County, Entrepreneurs Organization, Goodwill and Habitat for Humanity, among others. Since Kennedy joined BNY Mellon, she has hired more than 17 people, opened an office in San Diego, and added 70 new relationships. Throughout her career in financial services and wealth management, Kennedy has been committed to delivering excellence. BNY Mellon Wealth Management provides wealth management, private banking, investment management, wealth and estate planning and other services to individuals, families, family offices and more.

Rani Khetarpal, CEO & Co-Founder

Global Transcational Care, Newport Beach

Five years ago, seeing a gap in care follow-up leading to increased hospital readmission, Rani Khetarpal began to explore programs that were solving the problem. Khetarpal began to follow and study the only clinical program being developed at the time, the Naylor Model at the University of Pennsylvania. Over the course of two years, her efforts sparked the support of Dr. Hisham El-Bayar, an Orange County surgeon and the two founded Global Transcational Care (GTC), creating the first commercialized clinical transitional care in the country. In addition, GTC is the only approved clinical transitional care provider organization approved by Medicare for reimbursement — commercializing a new category of care in the evolving health care landscape, all with the end benefit of helping to improve population health and reduce cost waste.

Laura Khouri, President

Western National Group, Irvine

Laura Khouri began her career with Western National Group in 1985 as a “Gail Fellow,” and has held increasingly responsible management positions with the firm during her 31+ year tenure. Prior to her appointment as president of Western National Property Management in March 2010, Khouri founded the ancillary income company, MAG, and served as its first president. Western National is among the largest multifamily property management companies in the Western United States with more than 24,500 apartment units in more than 162 locations throughout California and Nevada. As president, Khouri is responsible for leading a team of about 800 real estate professionals supervising a portfolio of assets owned by Western National Group, as well as third-party clients. She is a licensed real estate broker in both California and Utah and is a sitting member on Western National Group’s executive committee, the board of directors, as well as on the Western National Group investment committee.

Robin King, Director of Media & Account Strategy

Zip2Media, Irvine

Robin King takes a very strategic and systematic approach to managing media campaigns while simultaneously managing client expectations. Zip2Media is an advertising and media buying agency specializing in TV, radio, social, digital marketing, outdoor, events and sports sponsorships. King manages and negotiates the most cost-effective, targeted advertising campaigns that generate the highest return-on-investment for clients. In the year that King has been with Zip2Media, she has helped to guide the agency towards stronger revenue growth by adding new clients to the company’s roster, setting up new templates and processes, hiring new talent and spearheading Zip2Media’s website redesign. As a result of her insight and leadership, Zip2Media is poised for significant growth in 2016 and beyond.

Melany Koening, President

MZ Marketing and Management, Santa Ana

In six years, Melany Koening has managed 20+ television advertising campaigns, including a number of brand-sensitive campaigns, such as Breville, Rubbermaid, Contour, Cuisinart and Conair. Of all the campaigns that she has managed, her leadership and innovation were pivotal in the successful television advertising campaign for Melanophotosis by Tracy Anderson. Not only was this a hugely successful DRTV campaign, but Koening was also responsible for the client’s oversight and daily management of retail, home shopping and international distribution. MZ Marketing and Management is a service provider, and as such, the close relationship with its clients is of the utmost importance to the ongoing growth of the company. Koening is an outstanding ambassador for the company and projects a warm, cheerful attitude to all clients.

Alyssa Lahham, Vice President, Operations, Marketing, Advertising

Sparkhouse, Santa Ana

Alyssa Lahham started with Sparkhouse – a video production and online marketing agency – in 2009. Lahham was hired by the company’s internal procedures and marketing plan. She has implemented a creative brief, post-production quality control procedures, client timelines, a post-production schedule, project profitability tracking, and an SEO and content marketing initiative. Since Lahham has joined Sparkhouse, both client satisfaction and internal efficiency have increased. With Lahham handling operations, the organization has been able to focus on delivering the highest quality creative videos to clients. Sparkhouse was also able to sign on MeLife, one of its largest clients to date. Sparkhouse will continue to grow and be more and more profitable due in large part to Lahham’s diligence and attention to detail.

Shelly Larrimore, Operations Process Specialist

NextGen Healthcare, Irvine

Shelly Larrimore joined NextGen Healthcare in December 2013, just two months after NextGen acquired Mirth Corp., which was focused on health information exchange and data interoperability. Larrimore’s role in sales operations was to help organize the company’s internal procedures and marketing plan. She has implemented a creative brief, post-production quality control procedures, client timelines, a post-production schedule, project profitability tracking, and an SEO and content marketing initiative. Since Lahham has joined Sparkhouse, both client satisfaction and internal efficiency have increased. Stacy Lax, Vice President Financial Operations & Internal Audit Microsolutions Corp., Aliso Viejo

Stacy Lax’s leadership at Microsolutions has provided the company with the financial discipline necessary for success in the highly competitive semiconductor industry. Since joining the company in 2006, Lax has played an integral role in leading the complex compliance and audit processes for Microsolutions’ 21 global acquisitions during the past 10 years. By incorporating these companies into the Microsolutions fold, they have the resources of a larger corporation that can support, absorb and grow organically, thus expanding their capabilities in finance and human resources for the company’s growth. Lax believes that the focus of her employees is the foundation for growth, and her success in this area has successfully led Microsolutions to achieve profitability, improved margins, a strong balance sheet, and cost-cutting consolidation plans for facilities both domestically and abroad. Microsolutions offers an attractive professional portfolio of opportunities across all departments including communications, defense and security, aerospace and industrial markets.

Barbara Layton, Owner
Babette’s, Newport Coast

Barbara Layton is the owner of both Babette’s East Hampton and Babette’s Newport Beach, making her not only a businesswoman, but a force to be reckoned with. Opened in June 1995, Babette’s East Hampton began from a dream and evolved out of sheer desire. The restaurant prides itself on serving up deliciously clean food in a lively, sensual and visually beautiful space, making each and every meal an event. 20 years later, Babette’s Newport Beach opened 3,000 miles away on the scenic Newport Coast, proudly earning the title as one of the most strikingly, health-conscious dining concepts in Orange County. The menu consists of a variety of dishes, all of which are made with only the finest organic, local and seasonal ingredients supporting farmers and growers who support sustainability. It also appreciates herbivores and carnivores alike infused with flavors from around the globe.

Joyce Lee, EVP of Legal & Business Affairs
Alorica, Irvine

In June 1999, Andy Lee founded Alorica, the Irvine-based business process outsourcing company that posted more than $1 billion in revenue in 2015. ADYA, Anaheim
Indian-born Chef Shachi Mehra has a passion for creating innovative and thoughtful menus that tastefully balance a variety of flavors to create unique and inspired dishes. Her early family experiences helped to develop and shape her love of food and appreciation for balance, in flavors and in life. Mehra blends Western and Indian cultures to create artful dishes that successfully marry tradition with modernity. Mehra has become known for bringing a unique global perspective to her work. This can be attributed to an extended culinary journey through India, Japan and Australia. She has strengthened her skills in some of the most demanding kitchens in this country before opening ADYA locations in Anaheim and Irvine. With an education from The University of Texas at Austin, this culinary ingénue has set herself a place in history as one of the premier Indian-born chefs in Orange County.

Jena Minnick-Bull, CEO & Director
South Coast Conservatory, Laguna Niguel
Jena Minnick-Bull, at the age of 24, created a corporation to build a positive dance education enterprise in her community. Minnick-Bull believes that dance is powerful mix of athleticism and artistry with tremendous benefits for youth. However, the dance industry has been wrought with business challenges. She has been determined to change that. At age 25, she acquired an existing dance school with revenue of $86,000 and 167 students. In 14 years, she has grown her company by 2700%, founded a nonprofit company, Dance Discovery Foundation, and has affected the lives of over 11,000 students. In 2015, South Coast Conservatory reached the benchmark revenue of $2.4 million, making it one of the largest privately owned dance schools in California. She has been able to create a sustainable and prosperous business and foundation to provide dance education and its powerful benefits to youth for many decades to come.

Ruchi Mitra, Founder & CEO
Changefindr, Irvine
More than $10 billion worth of gift cards go unused every year and Ruchi Mitra thought that it was an outrage that so much money goes to waste when it can be put to good use. With this concept she founded her company, Changefindr, in 2014 to help worthy causes and charities get donations. Converting gift cards to cash was not easy, so she partnered with Blackhawk Networks – one of the largest gift card providers – to let people conveniently donate their unused gift cards online. Currently, about 100 causes and charities are listed on the Changefindr platform, and people can easily donate their unused and unwanted gift cards and get a donation receipt. She has successfully raised funds for charities such as South County Outreach, Planned Parenthood, Boy Scouts of America, CoderDojo of Orange County and Irvine Temple to name a few. She is currently working with Irvine Prevention Coalition to raise funds to support its year-round drug prevention in schools and community.

a loved one to cancer. Falsely believing she was “too young to plan,” she learned the hard way why every adult should have some form of estate planning in place so that their family is properly protected should the unthinkable happen. She graduated from Loyola Law School and has been practicing law in Orange County for 20 years. Her straightforward and easy-to-understand legal advice has been featured in a number of publications including Forbes.com and the OC Register. Most recently, she was named as a top OC estate planning attorney by OC Metro Magazine in 2013 and Coast Magazine in 2015.

Dr. Sandra Morgan, Director, Vanguard University’s Global Center for Women & Justice; Professor, Women’s Studies, Family Violence & Human Trafficking Vanguard University, Costa Mesa

Sandra Morgan is recognized globally for her expertise on combating human trafficking and working to end violence against women. She began her anti-trafficking work in Athens, Greece where she served on the board of the Athens International Nurses Association. She has also served as the administrator of the Orange County Human Trafficking Task Force before returning full-time. She has overseen the expansion of Fairhaven’s historic Orange County institution. As president of Fairhaven, Noel has the right combination of empathy and business sense to successfully maintain a demanding corporate role for a Fortune 200 corporation. She opened her premier art studio wine bar, Inspired Art Wine, which is designed to be a place where guests can relax and create their own creativity via art classes. Opening a business that involves alcohol is not an easy feat, and Nguyen was able to navigate various agencies, city, county and state officials to launch her business under a tight deadline and limited budget, while maintaining a demanding corporate role for a Fortune 200 corporation. She opened her business on National Wine Day, February 18, 2016. Today, Inspired Art Wine is a place where people can bond over a shared activity while enjoying their favorite beverage and good music.

Marla Nalywayko, Senior Vice President, HR & Strategic Project Administration CoreLogic, Irvine

Marla Nalywayko is senior vice president, Human Resources and Strategic Project Administration for CoreLogic (NYSE: CLGX). Recognized as a leading global property information, analytics and data-enabled services provider, CoreLogic serves markets such as real estate and mortgage finance, insurance and government. The company maintains proprietary and proprietary sources, including more than 4.5 billion records spanning more than 50 years. Nalywayko was the human resource leader during separation of CoreLogic from First American Title in June 2010. Since that time, CoreLogic has transformed into a higher performing company with shareholder returns of more than 200%. Through Nalywayko’s leadership, CoreLogic has acquired new companies and divested non-core businesses as the company’s strategic roadmap has evolved. The current profile of the company is a high-growth organization with greater engagement.

Karen Nguyen, Founder & CEO Inspired Art Wine, Costa Mesa

Karen Nguyen is the founder, owner and CEO of the first premier art studio wine bar, Inspired Art Wine. She worked across various industries for more than 10 years before opening her own studio, which is designed to be a place where guests can relax and create their own creativity via art classes. Opening a business that involves alcohol is not an easy feat, and Nguyen was able to navigate various agencies, city, county and state officials to launch her business under a tight deadline and limited budget, while maintaining a demanding corporate role for a Fortune 200 corporation. She opened her business on National Wine Day, February 18, 2016. Today, Inspired Art Wine is a place where people can bond over a shared activity while enjoying their favorite beverage and good music.

Marla J. Noel, President Fairhaven Memorial Park & Mortuary, Santa Ana

The funeral industry is not for everyone, but Marla Noel has the right combination of empathy and business sense to successfully continue the legacy of Fairhaven Memorial Park, a 100-year old Orange County institution. As president of Fairhaven, Noel has overseen the expansion of Fairhaven’s historic Orange County footprint, including the 2007 opening of a South County location consistent with the organization’s commitment to create places that people can relax and create their own creativity via art classes. Under her leadership, Fairhaven continues to be committed to community engagement and welcomes Orange County residents for Easter services, summer movies and concerts and various other events throughout the year. Noel has built an environment where OC residents can mourn, meditate or peacefully stroll. She has guided Fairhaven to embrace a modern outlook on funeral services and has built a newly installed cremation garden providing families even more comforting options when mourning the loss of a loved one.

Doretha O’Quinn, Provost & Vice President of Academic Affairs Vanguard University, Costa Mesa

Anooshesh M. Oskouian, President & CEO Ship & Shore Environmental Inc., Signal Hill

Anooshesh Oskouian launched her pollution control business in 2000 when the opportunity arose for her to re-invent what had been a metal fabricating company. Since then, Oskouian’s company has developed a comprehensive array of engineering and manufacturing capabilities. Growing industrial pollution abatement demand has resulted in newShip & Shore locations across Canada, the United States, and new offices in Singapore and China. Ship & Shore helps major manufacturers meet VOC abatement challenges by providing customized and low-emitting systems for various industries. It’s the only company in its industry that offers a true “turnkey” solution and complete project management, including assessment, design, testing, engineering, fabrication, construction, commissioning and even coordinates product transportation to the customer site for installation and start-up.

April Palmer, Vice President, Account Manager Fidelity National Title, Major Accounts Division, Newport BeachApril Palmer has been a notable, award-winning top producer with Fidelity National Title in a combined 21 years of service. Known as an “outside of the box” thinker and business innovator, she is always putting forth the best tools possible to aid her clients. Alongside her keen sense of innovation and ability to help generate company growth and overall business acumen, her solo professional achievement comes down to one simple element: the people. Palmer believes we are all here for a purpose and that everyone has their personal goals and needs. In addition to her corporate accomplishments, Palmer is the banner portrait of the successful working mother. Striking an ideal balance between work and life, Palmer has had a wonderful career that carried her far, while also raising a son from infancy to marriage.

Sara Palmer, Owner & CEO StaffRehab, Newport BeachSara Palmer founded StaffRehab in 2009. At the time, it was just Palmer and her dog, Josie, who came to work with her every day. The mission was to provide great therapists with great opportunities where they can make a difference in the lives of the people they touch. Since then, Palmer has grown her team (internal and contract) to more than 70 people servicing skilled nurse facilities, hospitals, schools, home health services and outpatient facilities throughout the country! StaffRehab has been honored by JNC as “The Fastest Growing Companies” List and the SIA as a Diverse Staffing Firm. StaffRehab is a member of the American Staffing Association and Staffing Industry Analysts.

Kelly Parthen, Co-Founder Bean Sprouts, OrangeShannon Seip and Kelly Parthen co-founded Bean Sprouts, a nationally recognized café where kids and families participate in a playful eating experience. Bean Sprouts provides healthy, experiential food service inside family destinations (museums, zoos, tourist attractions, theme parks, etc.). Bean Sprouts currently operates four cafés in California. The most recent one opened inside Discovery Cube Orange County in June 2015 and replaced a Taco Bell. Its award-winning Imaginibbles™ children’s menu—with items like Croccamel and Whoopee Daisy — is featured on a lower counter to empower kids to make their own healthy choices and to allow Bean Teams to engage with guests of all ages. Growth-ups are delighted with equally tempting adult choices and an espresso bar. The café menu offers a variety of choices for families with picky eaters, allergies and other dietary challenges. Bean Sprouts adheres to strict ingredient guidelines and features organic and sustainable foods, compostable packaging and eco-friendly design.

Cathy Pavlos, Chef & Owner Prowess, Newport BeachChef Cathy Pavlos is the driving force behind one of Orange County’s most unique and dynamic eateries, LUCCCA. Though educated as an architect and an art historian, and despite more than 20 years in architectural practice as a college professor, Chef Pavlos has been trained to cook. Since opening her doors in 2005, Chef Pavlos has led LUCCCA to become among the best in the region for its one-of-a-kind dining, offering catering and wine bar. Having earned a reputation as one of Orange County’s most unique and dynamic chefs in Orange County, Chef Pavlos opened Prowess. The new dining concept delivers elements of California’s wine country in Newport Beach’s Eastbluff Village Center. The restaurant features a menu of flavorful ingredients that change seasonally, serving many of which are grown in the restaurant’s own 1,300-square-foot, organic, raised-bed garden, which customers can observe from their patio seating.

Vicki Schrimer, Owner & Chief Tasting Officer
_loc_My Favorite Indulgence, Irvine_

My Favorite Indulgence® (MFI) evolved from Vicki Schrimer’s passionate addiction to baking; obsession for granola and the notion that something this delicious must be shared. Her quest to develop the quintessential granola took 10 years. Today, My Favorite Indulgence® is a multi-million dollar business with 5,000 stores and 20,000 accounts nationwide. MFI embraces everything Schrimer loves in life: baking, marketing, selling, feeding others, meeting new people, living healthy, recipe development, making new friends and being around food all day. Schrimer takes tremendous pride knowing she has single-handedly acquired all her accounts – the specialty markets, restaurants, curated retail, natural food stores, marketing, self-provision and manufacturing. She’s also established a solid returning client base at all her venues.

Donna Schroeder, Co-Founder
Schröder Management Co., Newport Beach

Donna Schroeder’s career in the ownership and management of real estate properties began in 1970 with the purchase and renovation of a single family home with her husband. Ernie. The couple’s portfolio soon grew to garden-style apartment communities in Los Angeles and Orange counties. The need for professional management of the Schroeder family portfolio resulted in the formation of Schroeder Management Co. Schroeder’s key involvement in the early years of investing was to work on the renovation projects that would ultimately increase the value and desirability of each apartment building. Later, with added Schroeder family members and outside investor strength, the company continued to grow and expand its portfolio of apartment communities, totaling nearly 3,000 units. Today, Schroeder Management has grown into a highly respected apartment management company with more than 140 employees overseeing nearly $500 million in property in both Orange and Los Angeles counties.

Rhonda Sciortino, Chairperson
Successful Survivors Foundation, Newport Beach

Rhonda Sciortino founded Successful Survivors Foundation (SSF), a nonprofit organization, to help people who have survived tragedy to mine the lessons found in the adversities they’ve faced, and to use those lessons to create their own successful lives. She created SSF because she was taken from being abandoned and abused as a child to an emancipated minor at age 16 struggling to survive. In 1994, at age 19, she married a young business owner at age 27; and ultimately to now living what she calls a life of significance. Through SSF, Sciortino wants to help anyone who has been through trauma to assemble the pieces of what she calls their “package of awesomeness” – strengths, talents, abilities, healthy coping mechanisms and characteristics acquired through adversity – and how to use this “awesomeness” to do good for others. Sciortino believes that every person can find and fulfill the purpose and passion in their life which makes a life of significance. Fenny Yan, Owner
poqetDONUTS, Irvine

Interested in venturing outside the world of style, Fenny Yan decided to take a chance and opened poqetDONUTS in 2015. Dubbed as the first doughnut shop in Orange County to offer custom doughnuts, the shop also offers a line of signature gourmet creations fit for any and every sugar fiend with flavors ranging from the beloved and playful Campfire S’mores, to the heartache when a caregiver took advantage of her Korean War vet paraplegic father following his last stroke before he passed. My Choice has earned numerous awards, setting its practices between. In addition, there are now two offices—one in Canyon Lake, Calif. to serve people in Los Angeles to the tip of San Diego and everywhere in between. In addition, there are now two offices—one in Canyon Lake and another in Dana Point—with more than 100 employees working at all times in each location, and a caregiver list that exceeds 400 people combined. Zimmerer also early on the Veterans Homecare Contract. Loma Linda Hospitals serving veterans deemed disabled during time of war with homecare services. She recently renewed this contract for another five years.

Julie Zimmerer, CEO & Founder
My Choice in Home Care, Dana Point

Julie Zimmerer retired from her chiropractic practice after 20 years and created My Choice in Home Care from personal heartache when a caregiver took advantage of her Korean War vet paraplegic father following his last stroke before he passed. My Choice has earned numerous awards, setting its practices apart from others. Since 2007, My Choice has grown from one small area in Canyon Lake, Calif. to serving people in Los Angeles to the tip of San Diego and everywhere in between. In addition, there are now two offices—one in Canyon Lake and another in Dana Point—with more than 100 employees working at all times in each location, and a caregiver list that exceeds 400 people combined. Zimmerer also early on the Veterans Homecare Contract. Loma Linda Hospitals serving veterans deemed disabled during time of war with homecare services. She recently renewed this contract for another five years.

Catherine Zinn, Partner
Deloitte Tax LLP, Costa Mesa

Catherine Zinn is a leader in the tax practice in Orange County. She has consistently contributed a significant amount to the Deloitte Orange County office and to Deloitte’s West Region, which encompasses more than 13 offices from Nevada, Arizona, Oregon, Hawaii, Washington, Utah and Idaho. She was the first female tax partner promoted in Deloitte’s Orange County office in the 14 years she served at the firm before she was promoted, and has continued to serve her clients with distinction and to grow her contribution to the firm on an annual basis. In the community, Zinn served on the executive board of theYWCA of Central Orange County, and in that role, partnered with Orangewood Children’s Foundation to transfer the nonprofit’s primary asset, Bellevue’s House, to Orangewood Children’s Foundation for their program, Rising Tides. She actively participates as part of the Rising Tides’ advisory board and is also very involved in Orangewood.
